ATLANTA BILL OUT IN THE COLD

Caucus of House Democrats Refuses to Consider It.

Congressman Howard Tried Hard to Get Caucus to Take Up Bill Giving Atlanta Title to Old Postoffice, But Failed. Refuses to Extend Program.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, D. C., June 14.—(Special.)—The democratic caucus called for tonight to agree upon such an amendment of the program heretofore agreed upon as would permit the bill of William Schley Howard relative to the Atlanta postoffice site to come up at this session, broke up in a row after two hours of fruitless debate.

Fight Over Pension Bill.

The Sherwood pension bill, lugged into the gathering by democrats from the middle west, proved the skeleton at the feast. This bill would mean additional pension payments of $45,000,000 a year from the national treasury, if adopted. A strong fight for its adoption at the present session, and for such an amendment to the house program as would effect this result was made by the democrats from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and other northern and western states.

These northern democrats represented to the caucus that they had been elected to congress on a platform pledging them to vote for the dollar-a-day pension bill, and had promised their old soldier constituency to use their utmost efforts to have it passed.

Had the issue been forced, they would no doubt have been voted down in the caucus. This would have resulted in a lot of disaffected democrats and brought about dissentions in the ranks where harmony had prevailed. Speaker Clark and Leader Underwood were most anxious to avoid this contingency.

Many Members Disappointed.

Representative Howard was not the only member disappointed at tonight's work. Representative Hay, of Virginia, sought to have the way paved for the consideration of a bill approved by the committee on military affairs, which he said would result in a saving of $6,000,000 next year through a reorganization of the army and a change in the period of enlistment.

A bill approved by the committee on naval affairs, relating to construction work in the navy, was urged by Representative Padgett, of Tennessee.

Also it was sought to get action on a bill for the creation of a bureau of health for Porto Rico and Representative Garrett, of Tennessee, in urging its adoption, argued that it might mean the saving of many lives this year.

To all of these requests the house turned a deaf ear.

The motion of Representative Howard to get up the Atlanta bill received 44 votes. The advocates of the pension bill voted against the motion for no better reason than retaliation, and a purpose to obstruct everything if they could not secure what they wanted.

Earnest efforts to assist in getting up the Atlanta bill were made by Representative Brantley, a member of the ways and means committee, and Representatives Adamson, Hardwick and Bartlett. All of them addressed the caucus in behalf of the Howard bbill, but to no effect.

Clark Fights Atlanta Bill.

Opposition to the Atlanta bill was voiced by Representative Foster, of Illinois, and Clark, of Florida. The latter said:

"Let Atlanta rent a hall and hold its council meetings in it for the present. Rather than let down the bars and permit this dollar-a-day-pension bill to be adopted, I would prefer to see the Atlanta municipal offices sheltered under a tent. The city got the property for little or nothing, and ought not object to paying a little rent temporarily."

Mr. Howard secured the floor and attempted to set the gentleman from Florida right as to the details of the postoffice deal, stating that Atlanta had oringinally given the property to the government, and had finally bought in the old building last year at its appraised valuation.

Representative Webb, of North Carolina, a member of the house judiciary committee, questioned the view of the Atlanta city attorney as to the necessity of a bill ceding back jurisdiction to Georgia. He said "when the government yielded its title to the property, it yielded, at the same time, its jurisdiction over the premises."

"While I am intensely disappointed at the failure to secure action on my

MASS OF WORTHLESS PAPER COMES TO LIGHT

Meeting of the Alleged Victims Is Held at Commercial Loan and Trust Company Last Night---Frank Myers, Jr., President of the Company, Issues Statement Regarding the Irregularities of Smith.

Three warrants, charging forgery, have been issued against J. Wylie Smith, of 249 Formwalt street, secretary and treasurer and principal stockholder of the Commercial Loan and Trust Co., of 29½ Whitehall street.

The total amount of money involved is, on reliable authority, said to be more than $150,000, affecting a large number of people, including many widows and working women.

The whereabouts of Mr. Smith is said to be unknown, although he has been missing but twenty-four hours. The local police department has been asked to assist in tracing him.

A meeting of the persons directly interested in the alleged operations of Mr. Smith was held last night in the company's offices. About twenty-five were present, among whom were Frank M. Myers, Jr., president of the company; Judge Simmons, J. L. Sims, of Hapeville; James Stallings, deputy in Ordinary Wilkinson's office; R. L. Morris, Guy Thurman, Dr. D. E. Dewberry, S. J. Collier, W. F. Brandt, Messrs. Griffin, West, Kitchens, and others.

All of these persons are alleged to have lost financially through Mr. Smith, some of them heavily. The individual amounts will probably run from a few hundred dollars to as high as $20,000.

Scheme of Operation.

The scheme of operations of Mr. Smith, said to extend over many months, was on a brokerage basis. He is alleged to have acted as agent between persons who wanted to borrow and persons who wanted to lend at a profitable rate of interest. One business woman, who has made a success in the city, and who sees about $15,000 of her savings wiped out, described the scheme in her case as follows:

"Mr. Smith came to me with the information that he had a customer who wanted to borrow a large sum of money. He declared that he was perfectly safe, and showed me the notes which he would give as security. These notes have since proved to be worthless."

Other persons report the same thing. W. H. Bowen, a notary public of 357 Lee street, stated that he had known of crooked dealings on the part of Mr. Smith for about six or eight months.

"Some time ago," said Mr. Bowen to a Constitution reporter last night, "I bought from Mr. Smith a number of notes on various people, the total amount being between $3,000 and $4,000. One of them was on M. M. Anderson for $400, and another was on Byrum Huie, teller of the American National Bank, for $370.

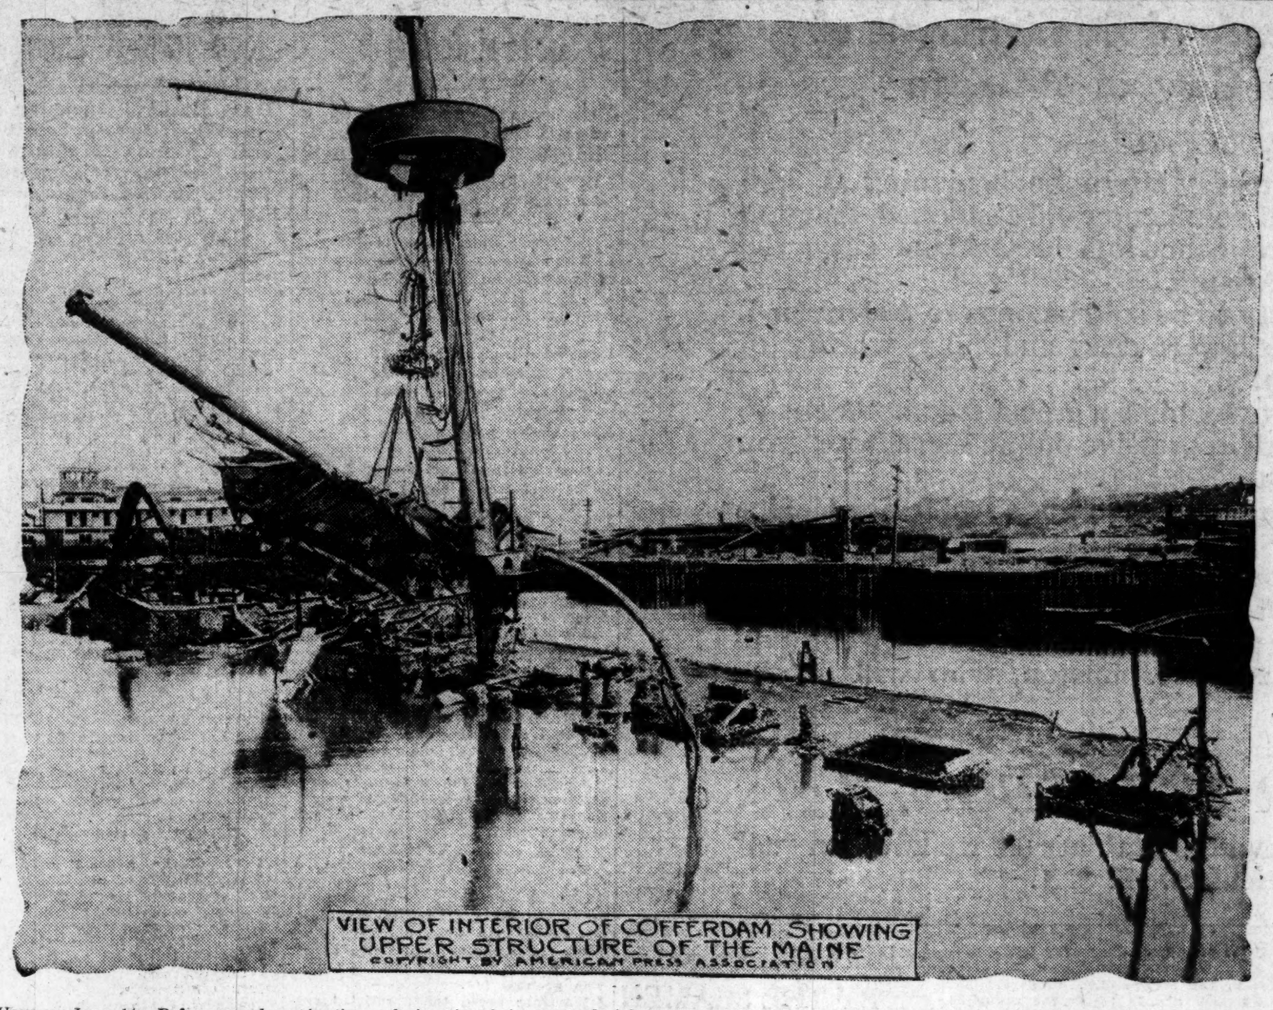

"I took these notes to the bank one day and the cashier recognized Mr. Huie's signature as a forgery. He looked the matter up and Mr. Huie had never given any such note. He then investigated the other signatures and found them also to be false, and that all the paper was worthless.

"That was six or eight months ago. Since that time I have gotten back a little of my money from Mr. Smith. I never let on that I knew anything was wrong. I told him merely that I could not bother with collection. He said all right, that he would sue, and without raising his suspicions, I recovered a small amount. I do not know who signed those notes. I only know they were no good."

"In addition to that I will say that I was shown yesterday several commercial papers, two of which were

VIEW OF INTERIOR OF COFFERDAM SHOWING UPPER STRUCTURE OF THE MAINE
COPYRIGHT BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Havana, June 14.—Before sundown tomorrow the work of removing the water front the cofferdam inclosing the wreck of the battleship Maine will be carried to a point low enough to reveal portions of the wreck submerged for thirteen years, including a part of the midship section immediately affected by the explosion, the whole quarterdeck and a portion of the berth deck, in which it is believed lie the bodies of most of the victims.

The water in the cofferdams this evening stood at the 4½-foot level. Tomorrow morning the most powerful pumps will be put to work with the object of reducing the level during the day to ten feet, which will permit the partial exploration of the upper part of the after section from the stern to immediately forward of the engine room space, where the explosion severed the forward section, including the 10-inch turret on the starboard side.

All this latter portion of the vessel is submerged many feet in excess of the after part and probably will not be revealed until the dam is completely emptied and a great quantity of mud excavated.

It is believed that within a week or ten days sufficient progress will have been made to permit the recovery of all the bodies.

KNOX IS STIRRED BY THE CHARGE OF CROOKEDNESS

Secretary of State and Chairman of Probing Committee in a Heated Controversy.

LONG MISSING VOUCHER PICKED UP ON THE FLOOR

No One Knows Where It Came From and Chairman Hamlin Says Voucher Had Been "Doctored"---Knox Says If Crookedness Is Proven There Will Be Some Vacancies.

Washington, June 14.—Intimation of "doctoring" the now famous Day portrait voucher, a consequent lively colloquy between Secretary Knox and Chairman Hamlin of the house investigating comittee, and testimony of Disbursing Officer Morrison's white messenger that he found the voucher on the floor near Morrison's desk after the archives had been ineffectually ransacked, featured today's state department investigation.

Correspondence between Secretary Root and Consul General Michael at Calcutt indicated that the mysterious difference between the amount of the voucher and the actual amount paid to the portrait painter was applied to emergency accounts, probably Chinese matters according to Mr. Michael. The exchange between Mr. Knox and Mr. Hamlin blew over quickly. Mr. Morrison probably will be recalled to explain how the voucher happened to be among the "crumpled envelopes" near his waste basket at the close of the day's work long after the search for the document had been on.

That $5,000 Paid to Hale.

The secretary explained, apparently to the satisfaction of the committee, the payment of $5,000 to Frederick Hale, son of former Senator Eugene Hale, of Maine, for services in connection with Canadian boundary negotiations. Mr. Knox produced the sections of the treaty of 1908, which authorized negotiations with Canada to establish the line through Passamaquoddy bay. Mr. Hale was employed for this work, performed his duties to the satisfaction of Secretary Root, and Secretary Knox approved his bill of $5,000 a few weeks after coming into control of the state department.

"Mr. Hale was not employed actually to locate the boundary, but for the diplomatic work of agreeing on the line through Passamaquoddy," said Mr. Knox. "When he failed to reach an agreement with Great Britain the matter automatically went to arbitration. Congress then appropriated $15,000 for that work, but Mr. Bryce and I sat in my office one day and settled the matter, not regarding it of enough value to go to the expense of arbitration. We reduced our agreement to writing. It became a treaty between the United

FACING EXPOSURE CASHIER SUICIDES

Short in Account With Bank Over $50,000.

Cashier Hart Dead and Assistant Cashier Hussey in Jail at Tarboro, N. C., Charged With Misappropriation of Money of Bank of Tarboro.

Tarboro, N. C., June 14.—Cashier Luther V. Hart, of the Bank of Tarboro, is dead, and Assistant Cashier E. B. Hussey is in jail charged wtih complicity in the misappropriation of $50,000 in bank funds, as a result of a visit to the bank this morning by State Bank Examiner J. K. Doughton.

Hart died from a self-inflicted pistol wound and the exposure of Hussey followed when bank officials and Examiner Doughton made a hasty investigation of the bank books.

This morning Examiner Doughton called at the bank for the purpose of making his regular inspection of the affairs of the institution. The examination was deferred until afternoon, and Hart remained at his post until the regular dinner hour.

Going home for dinner, he went directly to his room and a few minutes later his wife was startled to hear the report of a pistol. Rushing to the room she found Hart laying across the bed with a bullet hole through his head. He died two hours later without having regained consciousness.

The misappropriation, it is believed, will not exceed $50,000. Hart had recently been involved in numerous business transactions which involved large sums of money, and it is believed a series of failures was responsible for his act. Speculation in futures, it is thought, played no part in the tragedy.

Following the exposure, the affairs of the bank were placed in charge of state officials, and they immediately closed its doors, pending further investigation. The institution had a rating of $25,000 and was capitalized at $20,000. Its deposits aggregate more than $200,000.

Cashier Hart was about 35 years of age and was a member of one of the most promnent families in eastern North Carolina.

LINES ARE DRAWN ON RECIPROCITY

Senate Begins the Debate On the Canadian Pact.

Washington, June 14.—The first day of the consideration of the Canadian reciprocity bill by the senate was characterized by several events. In addition to listening to speeches by Senators Curtis, of Kansas, and McCumber, of North Dakota, in opposition to the measure, the senate made the bill the unfinished business on the calendar and, without opposition, changed the regular daily hour of meeting from 2 o'clock to 12 o'clock noon, which is expected to materially assist in disposing of the speeches.

Senator Penrose, in charge of the bill, tonight expressed satisfaction at the outlook, saying he believed there will be general co-operation in bringing the discussion to a close as speedily as possible.

To Reduce Sugar Duty.

Senator Bristow today introduced an amendment reducing the sugar duty. His amendment would strike out the Dutch standard provision of the present law and remove the differential between raw and refined sugar so that the duty would be 95 cents per hundred on sugar testing 75 degrees, and 3¼ cents for each additional degree. Mr. Bristow expressed confidence that the amendment would receive a considerable vote.

After a conference with President Taft at the white house today, Majority Leader Underwood, of the house, declared he thought the Root amendment to the Canadian reciprocity bill would not be adopted by the senate.

"If it should be," he said, "there would be a serious hitch between the

It Is Alleged Steel Trust Paid Exorbitant Rail Charges

Washington, June 14.—The United States Stel Corporation intends to suggest to the Stanley steel trust investigating committee the calling of witnesses whom the committee may overlook and who may throw light upon matters in question in the inquiry, and also to suggest that questions be asked of certain witnesses, if the comittee fails to bring out facts possessed by such witnesses.

To Suggest Questions and Witnesses.

R. V. Lindabury, counsel for the steel corporation before the committee, declared today this to be his intention at the close of the examination of James Gayley, former vice president of teh steel corporation, in answer to an inquiry by Representative Young, of Michigan.

"It is our intention," said Mr. Lindabury, "to suggest questions overlooked that we think pertinent and witnesses whom we think, in all fairness, should be called."

"The committee will eexrcise its discretion as to whom it shall summon," said Chairman Stanley.

"Of course, I assume," Mr. Lindabury replied, "that the committee would not refuse to summon witnesses we suggest."

"That will be determined when the suggestions are made," replied Mr. Stanley.

The steel corporation counsel and the chairman brushed again over the introduction of some railroad rate

NO HOME PHONES PAID FOR BY CITY

Council Finance Committee Will So Recommend.

Ordinance Abolishing All Free Phones in Residences of City Officials Will Go Into Effect on July 1, Without Any Amendments.

City officials, every one of them, must pay for their residence phones, according to the action taken by the finance committee of council at a meeting held yesterday afternoon.

Some time ago an ordinance was adopted by council which prohibits the city from paying for residence telephones for any employee. This ordinance goes into effect July 1.

Some of the departments, such as the fire, the police, the sanitary and the schools, thought that since phones in the residences of some employees were used for public business, the city should pay for them.

Where Free Phones Were Wanted.

There were introduced in council amendments to the free telephone ordinance which placed free phones in the residences of the chief of police, the captains of police, the detective sergeant, the police chief's secretary, the signal superintendent, the fire chief, the superintendent and assistant superintendent of schools, the sanitary chief, the health officer, the sanitary chief's clerk and the fumigating inspector.

The superintendent of parks, Dan Carey, appeared before the committee and said that he did not wish the city to pay for his home phone, but would like to have the free phone transferred to Piedmont park, where the public could have the use of it.

Stood Pat on Ordinance.

The committee stood pat on the ordinance against any free residence phones, and will so report to council next Monday.

Councilman Curtis reported to the committee that he had made a saving of several hundred dollars in the electric light bill, as the electric light company had generously agreed to cut down one-fourth the cost of the arc lights which were along the route of the white ways.

Alderman Spratling read a letter from the superintendent of the Grady hospital in which he stated that if the city should build at this time a roof garden over the hospital annex, it could do so for $4,500, and save $2,000 on the cost later on. He said that a roof garden would greatly help certain patients, and would add at least forty more beds. The matter will come before council next Monday.

Castro Closely Watched.

Washington, June 14.—Cipriano Castro, former president of Venezuela, now said to be planning to return himself to power, will get no aid from any persons in the United States if redoubled vigilance of the secret agents of the state department and the department of justice can prevent it. The report of Castro's presence at Haiti caused orders to be issued today which will have the effect of a double guard being set at New Orleans and other points along the gulf coast from which a filibustering expedition might find aid.

AUGUSTA TO GIVE PUNCH SET TO PRESIDENT AND MRS. TAFT

Augusta, Ga., June 14.—A silver punch set, valued at $1,000, will be presented to President and Mrs. W. H. Taft, on the occasion of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary, Tuesday, by the chamber of commerce, Augusta Cotton Exchange and board of trade, Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, city officials of Augusta and Bon Air Hotel Company.

The inscription on the waiter will be: "To President and Mrs. William Howard Taft—1886—June 19, 1911. From Friends and Admiers, Augusta, Georgia."

The bowl will bear the Taft-Herron monogram, and the cups will be engraved with the letter "T."

Washington, June 14.—(Special.)—The silver wedding anniversary of President Taft, to be celebrated on Monday next, will be marked by one of the most elaborate social events to occur during this hospitable administration, and will be one of the largest evening functions ever given at the white house.

Senator Bacon today circulated a subscription list among the democratic members of the senate, which was readily signed, each senator giving $10. A similar list was circulated in the house, each man giving $5. The senate list will total $910, and the house list twice as much. A splendid silver testimonial of some exclusive pattern will be purchased for the chief executive.

MANY PERSONS MEET DEATH WHEN RIVER STEAMER BURNS

Paducah, Ky., June 15.—The steamer John J. Lowry, with fifty excursionists aboard, burned to the water's edge at Hamletsburg, Ill., opposite Smithland, Ky., at 1:30 this morning.

The loss of life is reported to heavy.

MEN LEFT PARTY IN SHEETS WHEN GIRLS HID THEIR CLOTHES

Macon, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—W. W. Billingslea, a local druggist, has a big swimming pool in the rear of his residence on Walnut street. Last night he invited twenty young ladies and twenty young men to relieve themselves of the heat by taking swims. All went merry as a wedding bell until the young ladies, who dressed first, entered the men's dressing rooms and smuggled out the clothes, taking the apparel away and hiding it.

Some of the men stayed in the pool all night, others procured sheets and, looking like the ghost of Hamlet's father, sneaked around the corners until they reached their various homes, while one actually executed the old-time trick of concealing a portion of his person in a barrel.

A SPECIAL INVITATION!

To the Mayor and General Council and Heads of Departments of the City of Atlanta

GENTLEMEN:

On next Saturday afternoon, beginning at 3:30 o'clock, we will conduct an old-fashioned Auction Sale of choice residence lots in Oakland City; the 10th Ward of Atlanta.

The property to be sold belongs to Alderman I. N. Ragsdale. It is high-class and fully worthy of your consideration.

We think it would be a graceful compliment to this faithful and progressive public servant for you to attend this sale.

Col. Ragsdale will have some real lemonade; ice cooled.

Come! You will have a pleasant afternoon under the shade of the trees.

We will be glad to have you; so will your colleague, Col. Steve R. Johnston, who will do the Auctioneering.

Yours truly,

That Missing Voucher.

As to the voucher signed by Albert Rosenthal, the portrait painter, calling for $2,450, of which sum Rosenthal got but $850, Mr. Knox could give no new facts. He only knew that he had started a search for it as soon as he heard about the case and the search failed to reveal any trace of the voucher or letters supposed to be with it.

A week ago, said Mr. Knox, Mr. Carr, chief of the consular bureau, brought the voucher and papers to him, saying they had been found on the floor of Disbursing Clerk Morrison's office.

"Did you make inquiry to find out how they got there?" asked Chairman Hamlin.

"I did," said Secretary Knox, "and could learn nothing. All I know about the whole case is embodied in this voucher and the papers attached to it."

At this point Secretary Knox added a new element to the mystery.

"You will be interested in another receipt from Mr. Rosenthal that is attached to the papers," he said to the committee. "It was signed January 18, 1904, and is for $790, with a notation that $60 for the frame of Secretary Day's picture had been paid to a Washington picture dealer."

Mr. Hamlin grabbed the papers.

"Where did this second receipt come from?" he demanded.

"I found it with the papers, that is all I know of it," said Secretary Knox.

The members of the committee upon examination found that it was not actually dated January 18, 1904, but read: "Received January 18, 1904, the sum of $790," with an explanation of the purpose.

Something Wrong, Says Hamlin.

Mr. Hamlin declared he believed there was something wrong about the receipt. He intimated that he believed it had been fixed up, at least as to the explanation written in ink across the bottom after the present investigation began.

"Do you mean that you suspect someone in the state department is guilty of committing perjury?" demanded Secretary Knox, with heat.

"There is no intention to reflect on you personally, Mr. Secretary," returned the chairman, "but I am strongly of the opinion that this was prepared after this inquiry began."

"Then, you think that Mr. Rosenthal has written at least part of this receipt since the time indicated in it?" asked Mr. Knox.

Mr. Hamlin replied he thought it was a curious receipt, and that he intended to probe the circumstances to the bottom.

"I will welcome such an investigation," said Secretary Knox, "and if you can corroborate your theory and can show that anyone in the state department was cognizant of such an act, there will be some vacancies in the department."

Howard Sangston, the messenger in Disbursing Clerk Morrison's office, who found the envelope containing the voucher on the floor of the disbursing office after the whole department had been ransacked for it, was then put on the stand.

Voucher Found by Waste Basket.

He said he found the envelope among a lot of crumpled ones by Mr. Morrison's waste basket, about 4½ feet from the latter's desk. He said Mr. Morrison always threw the crumpled envelopes on the floor, and that in picking them up at the close of the day he found the heavy envelope among them.

"I laid it on Mr. Morrison's desk," said Sangston, "and he said: 'Why, Howard, where did you get this? This is the voucher that has been causing all the trouble.'"

Sangston said he had not put the envelope there, and had no idea how it got there. He said he didn't know it contained the missing papers save for the fact that Mr. Morrison had said it did when he opened it.

Secretary Knox introduced a letter Secretary Root had written to W. H. Michael, now consul general at Calcutta, and former chief clerk, when the Rosenthal matter first came up in 1906, and the reply to Mr. Michael. These were all the explanations the state department has, said Secretary Knox. The Root letter called Michael's attention to the fact that the voucher had been found without any bill or memorandum attached, and that the amount was much in excess of the sum usually paid for portraits of former secretaries.

"As this amount is greatly in excess of the sum paid by the department for other similar portraits," said Secretary Root in his letter to Mr. Michael, "and as it also seems in excess of the figure which this artist is accustomed to receive for his work, the department would be forced to the conclusion that the voucher signed by Rosenthal was actually made out to cover a number of emergency payments of which the portrait was only one were it not that the voucher for the whole sum was signed by Rosenthal alone."

Michael Tries to Explain.

Mr. Michael's reply from Calcutta said the payment had been agreed upon by Justice Day and Mr. Rosenthal.

"I was directed by Secretary Hay," read Mr. Michael's reply, "to write to Judge Day and ascertain whether the portrait was entirely satisfactory to him and the price agreed. In reply to my letter Judge Day said the portrait was satisfactory to him and stated the price to be paid. This letter I handed to Secretary Hay. He took a memorandum out of his portfolio, and after looking at it directed me to make out a voucher for a certain amount. I do not now recall the amount, to pay for the portrait and to hand him the balance which he desired to apply on other emergency accounts.

"He did not say what the accounts were, and the only impression I got was that they related to some way to Mr. Rockhill in connection with Chinese affairs. The amount of the voucher, whatever it was, was delivered to me by someone in the bureau of accounts, according to my recollection. The price of the portrait was taken out of the envelope containing the money in the presence of Secretary Hay, who retained the balance."

Explaining that if Rosenthal signed a voucher instead of a receipt it was through error, Mr. Michael continued:

"Whatever was done in the premises was done by direction of Secretary Hay, as nothing could have been done otherwise, and if there is anything in the transaction open to criticism it is the error of sending to the artist a voucher which was not intended for his signature at all, and which he should not have signed."

Baraca-Philathea Murger.

Kansas City, Mo., June 14.—After voting to combine the Baraca and Philathea Union Bible Study societies under one head and electing, among other officers, president, Marshall A. Hudson, of Syracuse, N. Y.; vice president, R. N. Simms, of Raleigh, N. C., and corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. G. Womach, of Spartanburg, S. C., the convention of the two societies closed today.

STRIKE CALLED BY THE SEAMEN

Effort to Tie Up Shipping at All the British Ports.

London, June 14.—The seamen's strike was formally declared tonight at London, Glasgow, Liverpool Cardiff, Bristol, Southampton and other British ports, and also at Belgian and Dutch ports, but the chances of any real international strike being declared seem remote. So far as tonight's indications show, the confidence of the shipping federation is well placed, for at hardly any of these ports was enthusiasm displayed for the strike, and the ship owners maintain an attitude of indifference, seemingly satisfied they will have no trouble in filling the places of the strikers who thus far can be counted by hundreds.

Tom Mann, at Liverpool; Benn Tillett, at London, and Havelock Wilson, at Southampton, are doing their utmost to galvanize the movement, but with small success. They demand chiefly a conciliation board and the establishment of a minimum wage and compain bitterly of the wholesale employment of Asiatics by ship owners.

There appears small chance here that either Germany, Norway or Denmark will come into the movement.

At a mass meeting at East London tonight, attended by 3,000 sailors and firemen, the signal for the strike was given. This consisted in the firing of three rockets and the unfurling of a banner inscribed, "The War Is Now Declared!"

The first big steamers to be tied up were trans-Atlantic liners. The crews of the Teutonic and the Express of Ireland, numbering 350 and 300 men, respectively, refused to sign.

Despite the recent efforts of the strike leaders to hold her up, the Olympic, of the White Star Line, the largest steamer afloat, got away from Southampton on her maiden voyage to New York early this afternoon.

National Park at Cowpens.

Spartanburg, S. C., June 14.—A conference was held here today between representatives of the chamber of commerce of the city of Gaffney, S. C., looking to the creation of a national park at Cowpens battleground. An organization will be perfected and the matter urged before congress. One of the important battles of the revolution was fought at Cowpens, and a statue of General Daniel Morgan, the hero of the engagement, stands in the public square in this city.

Rev. Dr. Power Dead.

Washington, June 14.—Dr. Frederick C. Power, pastor of the Vermont Avenue Christian church here, died today, aged 60 years. He was a native of York county, Virginia, and had served several churches in eastern Virginia before coming to this city. For two years, from 1881, he was chaplain of the house of representatives. He was known throughout the country as "Garfield's pastor," President Garfield having attended his church while chief executive of the nation.

A HEALTHY, HAPPY OLD AGE

May be promoted by those who gently cleanse the system, now and then, when in need of a laxative remedy, by taking a desertspoonful of the ever refreshing, wholesome and truly beneficial Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, which is the only family laxative generally approved by the most eminent physicians, because it acts in a natural, strengthening way and warms and tones up the internal organs without weakening them. It is equally beneficial for the very young and the middle aged, as it is always efficient and free from all harmful ingredients. To get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine, bearing the name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package.

WOMAN IN CASE TAKES THE STAND

Mrs. Jeanette Ford, Once a Siren, Now a Pathetic Invalid, Tells How Cooke Brought the Railroad's Money to Her and How They Deposited It.

Cincinnati, Ohio, June 14.—Charles L. Warriner, defaulter to the extent of $643,000, stepped from the court scene in the trial of Edgar S. Cook here today back to his cell and there entered Jeanette Stewart Ford, once a veritable Dubarry, now a pathetic palsied invalid. Warriner in his confession said Mrs. Ford had received a large part of the $643,000 which he had taken from the railroad.

With quivering voice she admitted having hidden $22,000 in money for Cooke and then declared he had told her it had been taken from the Big Four railway.

In essential details her testimony supplemented that of Warriner. Warriner had related that when he discovered Cooke was short the defendant visited Warriner's home and gave him $2,000.

Mrs. Ford today said she had accompanied Cooke to the Warriner residence one night, but had remained outside until the latter had finished his call, that Cooke then said, "It's all right; we'll both go to New York," and that there they opened a deposit box and she aided Cooke in counting bills to the total of $22,000.

According to the woman, Cooke's explanation of his methods in acquiring this money was that "he just helped himself."

At the Risk of Her Life.

Mrs. Ford's cross-examination is to begin tomorrow. Attorneys for the defense were willing to undertake it at an afternoon session, but the woman's physician objected.

"She is testifying at the risk of her life," he told the court and the respite was granted her.

Warriner again today resisted successfully attempts to lead him into an exposure of "men higher up." He denied that there were any such men, that he had pleaded guilty and accepted a prison sentence at the behest of Big Four officials or that he had ever as an officer of the road paid out money for illegal rebates.

Mrs. Ford was called.

She gave her residence as a hospital.

"Who is maintaining you there?" was the next question.

"My bills have not been paid," she replied, "but I have some furniture which I hope to sell."

"How many children have you?"

"Two; a boy and a girl. They are now with friends," was the response, accompanied by facial twitchings that showed how closely this question had pressed home.

Then the questions turned to Cooke.

Her Relations With Cooke.

She revealed the innermost secrets of her relations with the defendant, so far as the judge and the attorneys would permit.

"Cooke would visit me at my flat two or three times a week," she said. "Each time he brought packages of money which I concealed in a trunk. Later I went to New York, engaged a safety deposit box and put the packages in it.

"Cooke and I went to New York in September, 1901. We went to the safety deposit vaults and opened the packages and counted the money. It came to $22,000; all in $10, $20, $50 and $100 bills."

"While you were in New York did you have any talk as to where this money came from?" she was asked.

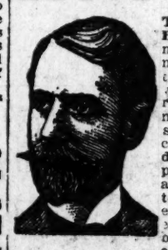

"Yes, from the Big Four," was the reply. Cooke explained how and why he got it. He said other men were getting it and that when they let him out he just helped himself."

Woman Wouldn't Prosecute.

Pittsburg, June 14.—Mrs. C. F. Hill, wife of a wealthy oil operator, who was shot in the thigh last Saturday morning at her home, and which resulted in the detention of C. R. Schaum, informed the authorities today she would not prosecute, and the case was dismissed. Mrs. Hill's statement to the police and her refusal to prosecute caused surprise.

BLOOD POISON

The symptoms of Blood Poison are unmistakable. The venom may rankle in the blood for a great while before its corrupted condition is manifested on the skin, or any other characteristic of the disease becomes apparent. To check it and check it quickly, too, is the solution of eradicating the disease effectually. Not by recourse to patent nostrums, alluringly advertised to cure, but which set up new evils, instead of correcting and eradicating the disease itself; but by consulting a specialist whose splendid reputation throws a safeguard around you, and whose skill in treating chronic diseases has been brought to the highest perfected state, through a daily practice of over a quarter of a century. This is the reputation, and the situation, as it presents itself today in the offices of Dr. Hathaway & Co., the oldest established and most reliable specialists in the south. Their statistical record of cures is one of the most remarkable histories of successes in the possession of any specialist in the country; a challenge for your preference and your confidence. # FEDERAL CONTROL OF CORPORATIONS

Logic of Existing Conditions, Says Frank B. Kellogg.

"Trust Buster," Speaking for Railway Workmen, Says Federal Charters Should Contain Provision for Compensation to Injured Employees.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, June 14.—(Special.)—Federal incorporation is the logic of existing conditions in the industrial world, according to Frank B. Kellogg, trust-buster and foe of Standard Oil, who appeared today before the employers' liability and workmen's compensation commission.

Mr. Kellogg admitted that the restrictions he would place in the charters to be granted by congress to the big corporations would probably not be agreeable to Elbert H. Gary and other captains of industry who had advocated similar legislation.

"If the government charters the great corporations, it may place in these charters it grants such restrictions as it sees fit, the observance of which will be required by each corporation if it is to continue in business. Payment of compensation to workmen injured in industrial pursuits may be exacted as terms upon which the government will issue them national charters."

Kellogg Supported by Brantley.

In this view Mr. Kellogg was supported by Representative Brantley, of Georgia, a member of the commission, who takes the position that the protection of property rights and the protection of the public from unjust actions by the great trusts could best be secured by national incorporation.

Mr. Kellogg appeared before the commission as the representative of the various organizations of railway trainmen.

Four of the general counsels of leading railways of the United States were present as representatives of a committee of twenty-one railroad attorneys representing the railroads in every section of the country. They were Alfred P. Thom, general counsel of the Southern railway; Robert J. Cary, of New York Central lines; Thomas W. Reath, of the Norfolk and Western, and B. D. Warfield, of the Louisville and Nashville.

Exhaustive legal arguments were made by Mr. Kellogg and Mr. Cary. The former took the position that there was absolutely no question of the constitutional right of congress to pass the proposed legislation requiring compensation of workmen injured in industrial pursuits, regardless of whether or not the employee was guilty of neglect.

What Railway Men Say.

The railway counsel said they appeared simply in an advisory capacity, and not as obstructionists, and practically admitted that the legislation would inevitably be adopted very shortly in this country as it had been in Germany, England, France, Norway and other European nations.

It has been carried to greater lengths in Germany, they said, than anywhere else.

Arguments were made showing how the proposed measure would change the common law rule governing personal injury cases. Mr. Cary said it was socialism, pure and simple, communism which was destructive of the individual because it places him in a class for whom it was proposed to legislate. He said the whole thing was an effort to introduce the element of insurance into a contract for labor, and that the analogy was perfect, no matter to what extent carried.

WITH CINDER COLONY

By putting on an extra train between Chicago and Denver, the Union Pacific has cut down the running time between Atlanta and Denver a even five and three-fourths hours. The new train will leave Chicago, beginning June 18, at 10 a. m. and will reach Denver at 1:15 the following afternoon, making the trip in almost six hours' less time than any of the through trains at present. When this new train has been put on, travelers leaving Atlanta early Monday night will arrive in Chicago the following morning, and with only a two-hour wait, may take the new train to Denver, thereby saving almost a full working day over the time consumed heretofore.

Reports from the Seaboard's "Trip to Wonderland" party, which left the city for a tour of the west several days ago, are to the effect that those making the trip are having the time of their lives. The party spent yesterday in Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek, and will today journey on to Salt Lake City.

C. H. Gattis, of Augusta, general passenger agent of the Georgia and Florida, was in Atlanta on business yesterday.

T. J. Robinson, assistant general passenger agent of the Central in Savannah, was another of the out-of-town railroad men who spent yesterday here.

A. J. Dutcher, general agent of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific here, is makig a business tour through North Carolina. He will be gone practically all the week.

C. C. McMillin, assistant general passenger agent, and Thomas K. Scott, general manager of the Georgia, were both in the city yesterday. Mr. Scott came to attend a meeting at which the local switching situation was discussed.

W. H. Tayloe, formerly general passenger agent of the Southern, is in the city. Mr. Tayloe, who is now general freight and passenger representative of the Southern at Denver, Colo., has a wide circle of friends among the local railroaders.

W. A. Stokes, city ticket agent for the A., B. & A., spent Sunday at St. Simons and he is loud in his praises of the delights of the island, its bathing, fishing, dancing and the like. The new hotel, he says, is just about the finest ever. He claims to have been in at the capture of a turtle which weighed something less than 2,500 pounds, and declares he would have brought it home "for proof" except for the fact that it was too heavy to "tote" and he was afraid someone would steal it if he sent it by freight.

Atlanta New York Paris

We haven't the honor of knowing MR. BERNARD SUTTLER personally. But we have just read an article in the current number of THE ATLANTIAN from his pen on COMMISSION GOVERNMENT. It is neither for nor against the plan. It is the JUSTEST, SANEST, PUREST discussion of the subject we have ever read. DON'T MISS IT.

We give OUR PUBLIC efficient service and honest values. Had we done less, the store would never have reached its present state of development.

Our position as RETAILERS is fixed. We are established with precision. Our methods are known to all. No doubts are attached to them.

The TRADE BENEFITS we accord customers simply convey our notion of GOOD-WILL.

No one should judge us wholly by the concrete bargain bought here. The money we may have saved you does not completely represent the bond between us.

The ECONOMY you enjoy here is merely an EFFECT. Don't let the actual dollars saved on a purchase absorb all your appreciation. Think deeper. Consider the purity and devotion of our INTENTION.

Our INTENTION is to bestow practical benefits WILLINGLY.

The system that operates is not the child of coldly calculated discretion nor of selfish expediency. Merchants have lived who planned that way. They ultimately swelled the ranks of the needy ones.

We are constantly studying how NOT to sell merchandise. That's a strange phase of the situation. Read it again. In the capacity of storekeepers we spend considerable time learning how NOT to sell goods.

Our meaning is obvious.

It would be stupid for us to sell you things that you may not desire and cannot use.

It would be contemptible for us to win your confidence and then attempt to sell you things that are of no account.

It would be low and mean and vulgar for us to impose on your credulity or ignorance and sell you things at exorbitant prices.

The other day a lady selected a Hat in our Millinery Department. She liked it. The price was satisfactory. It would have been a sale—but for one thing. She asked the clerk if the Hat was becoming to her. The answer was a frank "No." We didn't wish to sell our customer that particular Hat, because we did not think it looked pretty on her head.

However, it was THE Hat that appealed to her taste, and, under the circumstances, she decided to defer buying any other Hat.

Had we not advised against the purchase, what would have happened? She would have bought the Hat. The error in her selection would have been quickly realized. THEN THE HAT WOULD HAVE ALWAYS BEEN IN HER EYE AND ON HER MIND.

It would have been an IMPROPER SALE. Nearly all RETAILERS are in business for one purpose—TO SELL.

That's why children buy pistols, madmen buy poison, cheats buy marked cards, and the shallow buy silly books. It's like selling spectacles to a blind man.

It is our INTENTION to be KIND and to sell you the right things cheerfully without BEGGING you to buy.

No one who comes beneath our roof is permitted to wear a sour face. Our people are modest and polite. They SWEETEN every sale with the grace of courtesy. Haughty looks, arrogant action, insolent words—really you'd have to search hard to find them in any store—unless you surprised an isolated case unawares.

We've been in business a long time. We make money out of it. WE WOULDN'T BE HAPPY IF WE DIDN'T. To just drag along managing only to pay expenses would be terrible. We'd rather quit than not be busy. We leave nothing to luck or chance. INTELLIGENCE and ENTERPRISE never do.

The heart of the business is sound, therefore, we are not ashamed of its success.

LOCAL ELKS HONOR STARS AND STRIPES

The Exercises at New Building Site Prove Very Impressive.

The annual Flag Day exercises of the Atlanta lodge, No. 78, B. P. O. E., were held in the lodge room at the Elks' home last night at 8 o'clock. The ceremonies were unusually bright, and well attended by the local membership and out-of-town visitors. Although simple, the exercises were characteristic of the patriotism always displayed by this organization.

Yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock, ceremonies were conducted at the new home being erected on Ellis street. The Stars and Stripes were hoisted over the new building, and the flag raising speech, a very beautiful one in every particular, was delivered by Exalted Ruler Walter P. Andrews, who returned to Atlanta from New York for the specific purpose of taking a part in the ceremonies.

Introductory exercises, exalted ruler and officers; prayer, chaplain; history of the flag, Brother Little; altar services, esquire and officers; Elks' tribute to the flag, music, patriotic airs, Atlanta lodge; patriotic address, Brother Ellenwood; closing exercises, exalted ruler and brothers.

Heretofore the exercises have been held in the Grand Opera house. The lodge has always expended fully $500 for making these exercises an occasion of the season. However, it was decided this year that this large amount of money be placed in the building fund.

The Flag Day exercises are annual occasions. One day in the year is set down by the national laws of the Elks for paying tribute to the national emblem.

NO CHANGE INDICATED IN ATLANTA WEATHER

Thursday Promises to Be Fair and Moderately Warm.

Fair weather continues to prevail over the southern states, and Thursday will witness no change, at least in this section, according to the information handed out yesterday by the weatherman.

In spite of the sunshiny weather and the absence of rain the temperature continued moderate yesterday, the mercury rising to 87 degrees. A breeze which blew the greater part of the day served to lessen the heat considerably.

"Have you a wild-eyed baseball 'bug' in your home?" inquired the Gopher. "If you have you can probably sympathize with the man who stays on the telephone desk from about the time the game starts in the afternoon until the paper goes to press at 2 o'clock the following morning.

"Take it from me, there is some interest manifested by the populace in the national pastime, and since this New Orleans series started, with the Atlanta team getting away with a goodly share of the spoils of war, there has been some telephoning done by the anxious fans to find out how far we had ascended or descended in the percentage sacel."

ALABAMA MILLS CLOSING DOORS

Action Is Being Taken on Account of the High Price of Cotton.

Montgomery, Ala., June 14.—On account of the high price of cotton, which, it is stated, makes it impossible to operate at a profit, the Montals Cotton Mills, with 10,000 spindles, and the Montgomery Cordage Company, using 125 bales of cotton per month, have closed their plants for the summer. They will not resume until the crop is harvested in the fall.

It is stated that two mills at Selma, Ala., two at Mobile, Ala., and one at Florence, Ala., have suspended operations for similar reasons and that the mills at Avondale, Ala., and Columbus, Ga., are running on short time.

Mobile Mills Close.

Mobile, Ala., June 14.—The Mobile Cotton Mill, employing 150 people, will shut down its plant tomorrow.

The Basker Cotton Mill, employing 500 hands, will work on a four-day basis. The superintendent stated that everything possible would be done to keep the organization of cotton mills people intact and that every effort would be made to take care of the employees.

BONBON INTO THE "DISCARD;" GIRLS WANT SOMETHING SOLID

Chicago, June 14.—The bonbon has passed into the "discard," according to statements made by leading confectioners of the country, who are now gathered here awaiting the opening of the annual convention of the National Confectioners' Association today.

The young man still buys the fluffy trifles as often as his pocketbook affords, but the young woman has become more practical—so dealers say—and she demands something in the line of confectionery which will take the place of a meal.

Pure food laws and their requirements are the principal subjects to come before the convention.

"Our greatest problem," said D. J. O'Brien, of Omaha, secretary of the association, "is trying to keep abreast of the rulings of the federal food authorities. They demand that each separate piece be weighed and labelled. They prescribe how many pieces can be placed in a carton and how much each piece shall weigh. According to their rulings at present, each piece of chewing gum or chocolate must be so weighed and so labelled."

Waycross, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—At the annual meeting of the board of governors of the board of trade tonight C. Fort Andrews, who has been serving the organization as secretary since January, 1910, was re-elected for the year 1911-12.

MACON CONDEMNS BUILDING SAND

And As Result Over 1,000 Men Are Thrown Out of Work.

Macon, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—All paving, sewer and building operations in the city of Macon are at a dead standstill and fully 1,000 men are idle, as the result of the condemnation of the sand supply sources by the board of health and the edict of that body which prohibits the hauling of the sand through the streets.

Chairman Williams declares that the sand is dangerously infected with bacteria and the hauling of it through the city subjects the public to a grave danger. As it is impracticable for the contractors to procure sand from other cities and have it shipped here, because of the great expense involved, they are unable to proced with their work.

The paving of Second street by the Southern Construction Company has been stopped, Contractors Higginson, Shepard and Pearce have been stopped from hauling and work on fully thirty buildings is temporarily halted.

A special meeting of the board of health will be held tomorrow, when the protests of the contractors will be heard and the question settled. The contractors express their willingness to sprinkle the sand with lime before hauling it. The greater portion of the sand is taken from the river bed near where the sewage empties into the river.

WELCH IS ORDERED TO LET YOUNG GIRL ALONE

He Is Already Charged With the Offense of Kidnaping.

Already charged with the offense of kidnaping May Hudgins, a 16-year-old girl, S. R. Welch, a middle-aged man, has been cited by Judge W. D. Ellis for contempt of court, and must appear in the superior court Saturday morning to answer to the second charge.

Judge Ellis' order was given because in a former litigation, instituted by Mrs. Hudgins against Welch, the judge took the young girl away from the custody of both and sent her to relatives in Americus, Ga. The trial was very interesting, a number of unusual charges being made, the mother claiming that Welch was forcibly withholding her daughter from her.

The judge ordered Welch to have nothing else to do with the Hudgins girl under penalty of the court's displeasure.

So, when Welch and the Hudgins girl were seen together, and arrested by request of Attorney Aldine Chambers, representing the mother, Judge Ellis promptly signed an order haling Welch again into court for contempt of the former order.

VARELA ELECTED EDITOR

Former Atlanta Boy Will Have Charge of The Georgian.

Athens, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Joseph E. Varela, formerly of Atlanta and now from Tampa, Fla., was last night elected editor-in-chief of "The Georgian," the monthly magazine gotten out by the members of the two literary societies of the University of Georgia, in an open-air meeting on the campus, his term of office to be the first half of next year.

Karl Fleetwood, of Boston, and B. H. Walton, of Hamilton, were chosen to the board managing the publication. The new editor has been associate editor two terms; won the poem cup last year, and is president of the Phi Kappa Society and a champion debater this year.

Child Falls Into Well.

Athens, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Sallie Garnett, a little girl 8 years old, daughter of Alex Garnett, in the Brooklyn settlement, near this city, fell into a well yesterday while trying to draw a bucket of water. The well was 40 feet deep, and the water 4 feet deep. The child fell into the water, but managed to cling to the rope till her mother came to the rescue.

SPLENDID SITE OFFERED FOR PIEDMONT COLLEGE

Cornelia, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Colonel I. C. Wade, of this place, has offered to the trustees of Piedmont college, which is now located at Demorest, Ga., a magnificent plat of land comprising 250 acres if they will move the institution to this city.

Upon the ground Colonel Wade proposes to donate to this great institution are over seven thousand fruit trees, and the scenic beauty as seen from the proposed location of the college buildings cannot be surpassed.

"Hillcrest" rises above the town of Cornelia some eighteen hundred feet, and from it to the north the Blue Ridge can be traced for hundreds of miles. The lines of the Wofford Shoals Light and Power Company run through the property and S. C. Calloway, president of this company, offers to give half rates to the college for all electrical power and lighting. To secure this the sum of $5,000 is asked from Cornelia.

O'NEAL OPPOSES POPULAR VOTE FOR U. S. SENATOR

Alabama Governor Thinks It Would Ultimately Mean Federal Control.

Montgomery, Ala., June 14.—Governor Emmett O'Neal today declared opposition to the direct election of United States senators by the people.

He cited an article written by him in The North American Review of November, 1908, wherein he discussed the question at length and warned the southern senators that direct election would ultimately mean federal control of elections.

INITIATIVE IS KNOCKED BY NEW YORK SOLONS

It's Called "Flapdoodle," and Cut Out of New Charter for Buffalo.

Albany, N. Y., June 14.—That the democratic legislature of New York state is not enthusiastic over the initiative and recall is indicated by its action in divesting these provisions from the proposed new charter for the city of Buffalo.

The debate on the measure lasted for five hours and was spirited throughout. "I have heard a good deal about this new-fangled initiative and recall," said Minority Leader Brackett, "and most of it is flapdoodle—very tenuous flapdoodle at that."

One speaker declared if the recall principle had been in effect at the time of the civil war President Lincoln undoubtedly would have been deposed and disgraced.

A third senator expressed doubts as to the constitutionality of either these principles or the referendum, while a fourth contended that a public official should be judged by his entire acts and not by any one thing that might for the moment be unpopular with his constituents.

If the new charter is accepted by the people of Buffalo it will be the first experiment in this state of municipal government by commission which has been adopted in 135 cities scattered among twenty-six different states.

LINDNER WILL PLAY AT THE GRAND MONDAY

A fine musical program is being arranged by Professor Kurt Mueller for the commencement exercises of the Atlanta Law school next Monday night at the Grand. George F. Lindner and Professor Mueller will play the "Sonata for Violin and Piano" from Grieg. While all arrangements for this program are not yet completed, it is certain that there will be a musical treat for all who attend.

The graduating class this year is a very large one. There have been eighty-five students in attendance, a record breaker in the history of this institution, and the largest of any law school in the state.

Storm Does Damage.

McDonough, Ga., June 14.—(Special.) A severe storm swept over the eastern part of Henry county yesterday afternoon, doing considerable damage to growing crops. The home of Wilford Goss, near Ola, was completely destroyed, many articles of furniture being blown a half-mile from the house. Mrs. Goss had her dress blown from her body, but no injuries were sustained by either she or her husband. Mr. Goss had been sick for some time and was just able to sit up when the storm struck their home.

KING, PRESIDENT, GOVERNOR TO GET SUITS FROM FIRST BALE

San Benito, Texas, June 14.—President Taft, the king of England and the governor-general of Canada, are to be presented with suits of clothing made from the first bale of cotton of this season's growth. At a meeting of the Commercial Club of San Benito last night it was decided to trace the cotton, which was raised in this county, to Manchester, England, where it is destined, and have it weaved into cloth from which the clothing is to be made.

BRITT DEFENDS POSTAL REGIME

Speaking for Taft, He Says no Honest Publisher Has Anything to Fear.

Chicago, June 14.—Voicing administration views as to how the postoffice department should be run, James J. Britt, third assistant postmaster general, today told the delegates to the International Circulation Managers' Association, in session here, that "no honest publisher has anything to fear at the hands of the postoffice department.

"But," he added, "no dishonest publisher has anything to hope for." He was speaking on "The Uses and Abuses of the Second-class Mail Privilege."

Referring to the charge made recently by Senator Jefferson Davis, of Arkansas, that one publication in this country had been practically put out of business by the postoffice department, Mr. Britt said:

"You have heard recently from some quarters that the department has, without cause, attacked several newspapers and periodicals and that a policy of officious interference with the business of publishers has been inaugurated. It is a painful fact that while the great bulk of the newspapers and periodicals of the country are honest and law-abiding, there are some that willfully trample the law under foot and have no regard whatever for postal laws or the rights of others. If any have felt the weight of the law it is because they have invoked it, not because it has been unjustly imposed."

Regarding efforts to eliminate the annual postoffice deficit, Mr. Britt declared that the "ledgers of the department at no time should show either a deficit or a surplus, the entire service being administered on a self-sustaining basis." "A proper equalization of postal rates," he said, "would easily make it possible to reduce letter postage from 2 cents to 1 cent an ounce. The payment of fully 84 cents per pound on letters caused by the payment of 2 cents an ounce on underweight pieces," said Mr. Britt, "gives a profit which is applied to the deficit caused by deficient rates on other mail matter."

TECH TRUSTEES WANT $80,000

Present Sum Not Adequate to Maintain the Institution Properly.

Trustees of the Georgia School of Technology have decided to ask the general assembly for $80,000 for maintenance this year, an increase of $10,000 over the amount granted for this purpose last year. In view of the increased enrollment and the resultant added cost, the trustees say that this amount is absolutely necessary to meet the demands. Eventually, when a number of desired additions to the school have been made available, the trustees hope for a yearly maintenance fund of $100,000.

As it is the policy of the trustees not to ask for an extension appropriation every year, no building fund will be requested this year, but it is probable that a substantial one will be asked one year hence. The sum of $35,000 was secured from the state last year for a machinery hall. That and the $15,000 raised by friends will not have been expended until the machinery hall has been completd probably January 1. This building is being erected so that it may be added to later, making a complete shop building. This year the blacksmith, machinery and foundry shops are being erected. The units to be added later are the carpenter, lathe and planing shops.

NO DANGER OF THROTTLING PUBLIC EXPRESSION.

Among the rumors floating around Atlanta as a result of the charter revision agitation—and you can hear any variety of rumor to which you are willing to listen—is one to the effect that even after a commission charter has been formulated by the sub-committee now working, council will refuse to ask the legislature to submit it to the people. The rumor is, of course, without foundation.

In the first place, council could not prevent the legislature from submitting the measure from the people, even if it were so disposed. In the next place, conceding that council, or the majority, opposed commission government, it is not probable that its members would withhold from the people the right to choose as between a commission charter and a revision of the present charter. If they did—

The senator from this district and the representatives from this county, in disregard of council, would secure from the legislature the authority to submit to the people a commission charter or any other reasonable proposition.

The sending of a request for submission through council to the legislature is a simple formality, which may, or may not be observed. It frequently has not been observed in the past in amending the city charter by legislative action—in which the voices of the senator and the local representatives controlled.

In a matter of this nature, the power of the general assembly is final and supreme. On local issues, the general assembly's precedent is simply to be guided by the wishes of the senator and the representatives of the locality affected.

In all probability, the request to submit the commisison charter may go before the legislature without once going before council. Indeed, the chances are in that direction. The proposal is being advertised in due legal form. All formalities are being complied with. If, peradventure, council is asked to submit the request to the legislature and refuses, the citizens in charge of the charter will simply put the request before the local senator and representatives, the latter will submit to the general assembly and the general assembly will grant the necessary authority for an election.

That's all there is to it, and it is a waste of nerve force to get excited over something that will not happen. For even if the council and the legislature temporarily enjoined the right of public expression, the people of Atlanta would find a way to get what it wants.

The revision preliminary detail is working out smoothly. Council will doubtless draw up its revision of the present charter, and submit it to the legislature in due time. The friends of commission government will do the same thing. And the people will choose between the two.

Just one thing more—the only effect of a possibly unreasonable attitude on part of council or anybody else would be to—

Decide the people of Atlanta for commission government like a house afire. That is—if they haven't already decided on the commission principle, at least.

SIGNIFICANCE OF THE GEORGIA TECH.

The Georgia School of Technology has closed another successful scholastic term, as usual establishing a new high-water mark for attendance and efficiency over its predecessor. Under the skillful guidance of Dr. K. G. Matheson this splendid institution again contributes its quota to the army of young men working out the destiny of the state along technical and industrial lines.

The growth in scope and effectiveness of the Tech since its establishment is little short of wonderful. Steadily, year by year, its roster-roll has lengthened, its curriculum broadened and its reputation increased. With fewer financial resources than the majority of the technological institutions in the southern states, it has kept pace with high standards and kept open the door of opportunity for the large host of young men who plan their life-work along the line of the applied mechanic arts in Georgia or other states.

Perhaps the chief significance of the Georgia School of Technology lies in the present and future greatness of the field its functions are projected to fill. Not a year passes but demands, from all parts of the country, for graduates of the school exceed the supply. Unfortunately, a large number of these young men are drafted by other sections. But a large number remain in Georgia or the south to assume charge of established enterprises or new ones just starting their career.

Under our very eyes, the south is rapidly becoming a country of manufacturing and engineering activities, the products of which not only supply our own people, but as well pile up a margin to go to other states. Manufacturing and industry are beginning to push agriculture as a source of revenue in the southern states. As capital sees the opportunities, it increasingly pours into the section, multiplying factories, increasing wage-rolls, founding and enlarging towns, sending out lengthening streams of commercial travelers, fostering development.

That, in the ultimate, is the significance of the Technological and schools of similar nature.

FLIRTING AS A REST CURE.

Retiring from active work a Boston public school teacher of long experience gave it as her conclusion that mild and denatured flirting was one of the best rest-cures for tired school ma'ms and fagged girls generally.

As to flirting—coquetting is a more likable term—it has proceeded since the garden of Eden, and will probably continue as long as one man and one woman remain on earth. In that it quickens the mental faculties and takes one's mind off worry, there is something to be said in favor or it. It only becomes offensive when the element of vulgarity intrudes, or when the dramatis personnae take it too seriously.

Sometimes society slyly qualifies its quasi-approval of this growth upon its body-politic by bringing in the conventional chaperon. And sometimes the chaperon needs supervision more decisively than the supposedly giddy and irresponsible pair committed to her custody.

At the last analysis, we would not undertake to prescribe the Boston teacher's remedy for the complaint for which she mentions it as a specific. Like picking a wife or husband, these are the sort of decisions best made by the individual. But—to descend momentarily into frivolity—would it not be a good idea, if flirting is to be admitted to the materia medica, that we establish chairs at the various colleges and have courses administered under competent experts?

And which expert would be preferable—the summer girl, the bona fide widow, or bereaved one of the alfalfa classification?

A BROAD FIELD FOR INSURANCE COMPANIES.

Rapid increase in number of policies written by both southern and foreign companies within the past few years, emphasize that the phenomenal growth of the south is offering a splendid field for fire and life insurance underwriters, whether chartered in this section, in other portions of the country or in Europe.

For instance, The Constitution a few days ago commented on the large amounts paid during the last three decades by the south for fire protection, and its division as between southern and foreign concerns. The figures were taken from a digest made by The Louisville Courier-Journal. It was shown that in the past thirty years fourteen southern states had paid out $707,608,387 for fire protection. Of this impressive sum, only $68,181,112 was spent with southern companies. That is a big discrepancy, but it must be borne in mind that it is materially reduced by the fire losses, agents' commissions, agency expenses, transportation, and other payments by outside companies to the south, not to mention the legal reserves held by the states from outside companies.

Making even this deduction, there is a considerable disparity between the amounts paid by the southern states to foreign and to domestic underwriters. We cited this fact as an encouragement to southern companies to go out actively after business and to southerners to divide their patronage—stability and inducements being equal and the sectional equation not being the deciding factor.

The south offers broadest opportunities and profits for fire and life underwriters generally, whether capitalized at home or abroad. There is room for all of the proper sort. The entrance of southern companies divides the risks, and to that degree helps foreign insurance companies. And every bit of advertising done by any concern helps the insurance propaganda for both home and outside underwriters. So rapidly are we growing that there is no danger of the field being congested.

"JUST FROM GEORGIA"

In the Old South.

I.

Close to the fields of cotton I hear the engine scream,
And I look 'crost the fleecy furrow as folks look in a dream;
And I say, as they rush and rattle: "The world is goin' along!"

II.

Something which sorter gets me—seems to be saying plain:
"You're in the way, old man, today: Make room for the flying train!"
It's flying over the city, by meadows and flowering vines,—

III.

Oh, I know the world has left me—feeble, and old, and gray,
I only seem to be living in a country far away!
I know the path to the old home, where the flowers love to grow,
But somehow, the light around it is not of the Long Ago!

* * * * *

Word From Br'er Williams.

Some of de new preachers says hell ain't ez hot ez what it uster be. All I know is, it's too hot fer me.

De reason some folks can't look on de bright side is kaze de light is so bright it blinds 'em.

Singing the same old song all of us do know.

"Howdy—howdy do, sir!
Happy days to you, sir!"
Says he's goin' to right the wrong—
Make the whole sky blue, sir!

But I tell him: "Go your ways—
I have had my schoolin',—
Had my share of happy days,—
I'm too old for foolin'!

"I'm too wise for you, sir,
With your 'Howdy do, sir!'
Talk's too cheap: Go, sow and reap,
An' fetch them skies of blue, sir!"

* * * * *

Hope.

Thank the Lord for Hope. In the very thorns of the Valley of Despair undreamed of violets blossom at our feet, and Grief, with downcast eyes, sees lilies on his breast, and the sun shines, and the birds sing, and the arms of an uplifting love sustains us, and Heaven comes so near that we fancy we hear the footfalls of the Angels of Light.

On the Bright Road.

I.

We shall look for roses,
Glistening with the dew;
Goodby to the old days!—
Welcome to the new.

II.

If we miss the hilltop
Where the thunders meet,
We'll rest in the valley,
And gather violets sweet.

Gossip at the Capitol

Appoint School Commissioners.

Having successfully passed the necessary examination and qualified for the office K. W. Liles, Jr., has been appointed to succeed J. O. Mangum, deceased, as county school commissioner of Camden county, and O. O. Tolleson has been appointed county school commissioner of Henry county to succeed Lawrence Duffy, resigned. Mr. Duffy has been elected president of the fourth district agricultural school.

Teachers' Examination.

State School Commissioner M. L. Brittain announces that the annual examination of school teachers of the state will be held in each of the county seats today and tomorrow, June 15 and 16.

Reed Denied Clemency.

Because he once took part in a small mutiny in a convict camp of Fulton county, Jesse Reed will be compelled to serve a while longer on his sentence of ten years for larceny, imposed in 1902, and another sentence of two years imposed later when he participated in the mutiny.

Governor Brown yesterday declined Reed's application for clemency on the ground that mutiny should not be condoned.

J. SCOTT TODD, JR., IS HIGHLY HONORED

Is Elected Secretary of the Hillyer Trust Company.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Hillyer Trust Company, held Wednesday afternoon, J. Scott Todd, Jr., was elected secretary of that institution.

Mr. Todd has for some years been connected with the Central Bank and Trust Corporation, with which bank he has successfully held the position of receiving teller and manager of the trust department. He is a man of recognized ability in his chosen calling, beside being unusually popular. His many friends are congratulating him on his election, and the trust company, on the other hand, is fortunate in its choice of Mr. Todd.

Though still quite a young man, Mr. Todd, Mr. Todd has had eleven years of banking experience, his early training having received in a private banking house in New York city.

Gridiron Club Banquet.

Athens, Ga., June 14.—The Gridiron Club, of the University of Georgia, has just held its last meeting for this year—a banquet at the Georgian hotel being the occasion of their coming together. Rev. M. L. Troutman, pastor of the First Methodist church, a member of the junior law class of the university, and a member of the club, was the orator of the evening. The following men were taken in to compose next year's "Gridiron" members: James P. Jones, of Rome; Thomas N. Powell, of Newnan; William P. Nicholson, of Atlanta; Marvin Perry, of Machen; Cliff Brannen, of Statesboro; George Northen, of Atlanta; Harold Meyer, of Augusta; Lloyd Brown, of Sharon; Hilliard Spalding, of Atlanta, and James M. Lynch, of Florence, S. C.

Letters From People

The Statesman in Private Life.

Editor Constitution: I read with interest today your editorial on "Statesmen in Private Life" based on some remarks of Mr. Charles S. Barrett. It is something I have believed in for a great many years. But I cannot refrain from calling your attention to the difficulties which hedge around the private statesman. The American people are wedded to the belief that no man's opinions are worth while unless he either has held, or is holding some little office—or it may be a big one, or has a pot of money. For instance, I may have absolutely no knowledge of governmental conditions whatever—but let me start a bucket-shop and make a half-million dollars and I at once become an authority on government, carrying much more weight than the student who has given forty years of study to the question, but who has not got the half-million.

On the other hand, I may have no more intellect than a wooden Indian—but if I have those personal qualities which enable me to be elected to the legislature, or sheriff of the county, or mayor of the city, I at once become an authority on government.

The poor statesman in private life who has delved and dug for thirty or forty years, who has got down to fundamentals, who knows what government means, who has studied evils and remedies, is not in the same class with that able individual who has been elected to the legislature. This is not intended as sarcasm. By no means—it is merely a frank statement of the actual conditions which prevail.

I am not, however, disposed to be pessimistic about the matter. I believe the statesmen in private life are becoming all the time more numerous and more useful. "May their tribe increase!"

IS BLEEDING TO DEATH FROM PULLING OF TOOTH

Physicians Are Puzzled Over Condition of Athens Man.

Athens, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Andrew C. Fears, a well-known merchant of Athens, is desperately ill at his home from a most unusual origin. Monday afternoon he had a tooth pulled, and the bleeding from the dental operation could not be stopped for hours. Mr. Fears lost a gallon of blood from the tooth. Later, hemorrhages from the kidneys set in, and it is feared that his condition is very serious.

The physicians are puzzled over the case.

Negro Lewis Confirmed.

Washington, June 14.—After a fight waged by southern senators for more than two months, the senate today confirmed William H. Lewis, the Boston negro attorney, to be assistant attorney general of the United States.

HAD BEAR IN HIS GRIP; CALLED IT HIS MASCOT

Ed. Brown, the new manager of the Kimball house, reached the city yesterday afternoon over the Seaboard Air Line, and was met at the depot by Will V. Zimmer, one of the lessees of the hotel, and was automobiled at once to the Kimballville farm, where he passed the night.

This morning the manager of the Kimball will "be on the job" with that happy smile and glad hand which has made him so popular among hotel patrons.

As Ed. Brown's baggage was being shoved into the automobile a loud and ugly growl came from a large hand-bag which had been ventilated by many holes. The bag was in Billy Zimmer's hand as the growl came through the air holes. Dropping the bag Billy Zimmer exclaimed:

"What'n the smoke you got in there, Ed?"

Without replying Mr. Brown took a seat beside by Mr. Zimmer, and reaching for the hand-bag, opened it, revealing a half grown black bear wearing a collar around his neck, and in an instant, that young bear was out of the case sitting in Ed. Brown's lap.

"That's my pet, Bill," said Mr. Brown. "I ain't going to hurt you. It's as ta—"

"No, hang me if it is going to hurt me. Say, Jim, I'll drive this machine, and you can sit back here beside Mr. Brown," said Mr. Zimmerman, as he crawled over in front. "But, Ed, what do you want with a pet of that kind?"

"Bruin has long been my luck. He helps me shake hands with my friends as they come to the counter to register. Just watch him take to his job, Billy," replied Ed Brown.

METHODISTS MEET IN CONFERENCE

About Two Hundred Are in Attendance at the Meeting.

Joel T. Daves, presiding elder of the Atlanta district, called to order the annual Methodist district conference in Wesley Memorial church yesterday afternoon for a three days' session. Although there was a large number present at the first meeting, it is expected that the attendance will be larger on the succeeding days when the more important subjects will be brought up for consideration.

The Atlanta district contains about 19,000 Methodists and about forty-five churches. About 200 delegates are elected to this conference, which in turn elects delegates to the general conference.

Rev. S. B. Ledbetter, pastor of St. John's, who acted as secretary of the conference last year, was again elected to this office. Wednesday's session was taken up largely by hearing reports from the various churches. Devotional services were conducted by Rev. J. B. Robbins, pastor of Trinity church, who made a strong plea for the love of the beautiful.

Among the visitors to the conference were Rev. B. F. Fraser, presiding elder of the Augusta district, and Rev. John S. Jenkins, presiding elder of the Rome district.

TERRELL LEAVES FOR ATLANTA

The Senator Will Arrive Today and Open His Headquarters.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, June 14.—(Special.)—Senator Terrell left Washington this afternoon on the Birmingham special for Atlanta, and will arrive home tomorrow morning. He was accompanied by Mrs. Terrell. He expects to open headquarters in the Kimball and prosecute his campaign for re-election actively. However, he will return to Washington if his vote is needed on any important measure within the next week or two. A pair has been arranged for him with Senator Frye, of Maine, who is absent on account of feeble health. This will protect him should anything come up unexpectedly.

It is probable that the debate on the Canadian reciprocity bill will continue for several weeks in the senate before a vote is reached. Should it be concluded earlier, Senator Terrell will return to vote on it.

AUCTION SALE IS POSTPONED

Because the prices offered were considerably below what the property is really worth, Holmes & Verner yesterday called off their auction sale on Peachtree Road property and bought back at an advance of $500 the lots which had been sold up to that time.

The three lots fronting Peachtree Road were the only ones put up. All three were bought by T. A. Perry, who paid $70 per front foot for No. 3, $61.50 per front foot for No. 2, and $50 per front foot for No. 1. The total for the three lots was $16,760, and after calling off the sale, as the company had reserved the right to do, Holmes & Verner bought back from Mr. Perry his holdings for an advance of $500 over the price he had paid.

The prices paid by Mr. Perry were considerably below what was offered for the property at private sale only a short time ago, and Holmes & Verner, feeling certain that the future of this property is second to that of none in the vicinity, were unwilling to let it go at these figures. Hence their repurchase.

It is stated that the property will probably be put on the market again within a comparatively short time.

TWENTY-EIGHT LOTS TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION

Sale Will Take Place at West End Park This Afternoon.

Twenty-eight residence lots in West End Park will go under the hammer at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Forrest and George Adair will conduct the auction and from present indications, the attendance will be unusually large.

West End Park is proving itself to be one of the most popular of the city's moderate-priced residence sections. It lies along Gordon street and Cascade avenue. A number of lots were sold here a short time ago, and on these a number of residences are already being erected, while fully as many more are projected. The property is that of W. J. Davis.

Water and sewer mains are guaranteed along the front of each lot which will be offered at today's auction, while the sidewalks and curbing are already down. This not only insures purchasers and builders every city convenience, but also precludes the possibility of his being taxed to pay for these improvements. Unusually liberal terms will be made on the lots offered for sale.

The auction will begin promptly at 4 o'clock. Forrest Adair will act as auctioneer.

Seniors Hold Banquet.

Athens, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Last night at the Georgian hotel the banquet of the senior class of the present year at the University of Georgia was held. The senior law men enjoyed their banquet last Friday night. The literary graduates of this year had a splendid feast last night.

AMENDMENT TO BE READY SOON

Charter Revision to Go Before City Council Monday.

The committee of citizens and councilmen who are opposed to a commission government and who believe that the present city government charter can be revised so as to remove all faulty features, stated yesterday that it would probably have an ordinance for charter revision ready for council next Monday.

The committee states that it will not be necessary for council to advertise for thirty days for the proposed charter revision, as it would come up under the general advertisement already made for any charter amendments.

"We will not lose any time," stated Councilman Chambers, "and we do not want to act with any undue haste. There has already been done what is necessary in the way of legal advertising."

There are said to be only three members of council who are for a commission government and the three are said to be Alderman VanDyke and Councilmen Evins and Humphrey. When it was stated at a council committee Tuesday afternoon that it was proposed to revise the present city charter, Councilman Evins remarked:

"Well, there will something good come out of the commission movement even if the measure is not entirely successful."

ONLY TWO WEEKS TO RETURN TAXES

Tax Receiver Armistead Urges Everyone to Be More Prompt.

It is almost time for the state and county tax books to close, and Tax Receiver Armistead is short about 10,000 people. He urges that everyone make their tax returns at the earliest possible moment, as there are but two more weeks in which to turn in their property. Further delay means an unnecessary and inconvenient crowding on the last few days, says the tax receiver, and it proves bad for the people as well as the tax receivers.

Unless that delinquent 10,000 begin to return property today, warns the tax receiver, it will mean that a goodly number of them will have to waste time in waiting when they get there at the last minute.

"Do it now," is the motto of the tax receiver, and he would like to see all the 10,000 adopting it immediately in order that he may have his tax books up in proper shape by the end of June, at which time the books close.

99-YEAR LEASE FOR $1,000,000

Mrs. N. W. Crockett has leased to the McKenzie Building Company, the property at 40 Peachtree street for 99 years for a sum which in that length of time will total almost a cool $1,000,000.

By the terms of the lease the McKenzie Building Company will pay $6,000 per year for the property during the first five years, after which the annual rental will be $10,000. In addition to this the lessees are to pay all taxes, insurance and other charges against the building and lot. The lot has a width of 22 feet and a depth of 100 feet. It is now occupied by a brick building in which the Georgia Paint and Glass Company are tenants.

The McKenzie Building Company also have a 99-year lease on the lot adjoining this to the north, on the southwest corner of Peachtree and Walton streets. This, the lot being 22 by 100 feet, gives this company a Peachtree frontage here of 44 feet, and there is rumor that an office building is to be erected thereon. There is no confirmation of this rumor, however.

BALMER ARRESTED FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

Prominent Savannah Man Accused of Larceny of $5,000.

Savannah, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Charged with larceny after trust of $5,000 from the Edison Portland Cement Company, which he represented here, George F. Balmer was arrested this afternoon and committed to jail in default of $5,000 bond. Friends say he will arrange bond in the morning.

Balmer is a man of family and is very well known throughout Georgia. He is president of the Savannah Motorcycle Club and has been very active in amateur road sports.

The warrant was sworn to by E. Meyer, representing the surety company with which Balmer was bonded.

Erecting New Tabernacle.

McDonough, Ga., June 14.—(Special.) The workmen are busy now erecting a new tabernacle at Shingle Roof Camp Ground, near McDonough. The old tabernacle that was torn down had been erected for 82 years, and from it some of the ablest men of the Methodist church had preached.

The new tabernacle will be completed in a few weeks and other improvements will be made on the grounds, making it one of the most commodious camp meeting grounds in middle Georgia. It is expected that the meeting this year will be the best in a number of years, much interest now being manifested by all interested in this famous old camp ground.

Commencement Exercises.—The commencement exercises of the Atlanta Law school will take place Monday evening next, June 19, at 8:30 o'clock, at the Grand Opera house. The graduating class is one of the largest in the history of the Law school.

Isaac B. Pilgrim Is Ill.—Isaac B. Pilgrim, for many years a member of the typographical force on The Atlanta Constitution, who has been ill for some weeks at his home near Decatur, does not seem to be improving very rapidly, and friends, as well as members of his immediate family, are becoming anxious over his condition. Uncle Ike, as he is familiarly known by his many friends in both Atlanta and Decatur, as well as throughout the printing world, is receiving every possible attention.

Former Atlantan Here.—Dan B. Howard, of Chattanooga, well known among railroad workers in Atlanta, is in the city visiting Mrs. Sarah Newland, his sister, on Magnolia street. Mr. Howard has just recovered from a long spell of sickness at his home in Chattanooga, and is recuperating among his old Atlanta friends. Mr. Howard was at one time a resident of Atlanta, but when his run was changed into Memphis, he moved to Chattanooga, where he has been residing for four or five years past.

W. Peachtree Residents Sanguine.—A meeting of the West Peachtree Improvement Club was held in the offices of Judge Spencer Atkinson yesterday, in order to hold the organization intact. It was learned that the finance committee would make up their next appropriation sheet in October, and the improvement club hopes to receive the asked improvements shortly afterwards. It will be remembered that the improvements asked by the club were advocated by the street and finance committees, but as the latter was short of funds, the work could not begin until later. However, the prospects are bright for the improvement to materialize shortly after October.

JOE HILL HALL SERIOUSLY ILL

Macon, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Hon. Joe Hill Hall, one of the representatives from Bibb county, and one of the best known members of the Georgia legislature, will not be able to attend the opening of the general assembly on account of a serious attack of rheumatism, which has confined him to his bed for nearly two months.

He is in such condition that it is doubtful if he will take part in the legislative proceedings at all. His relatives are apprehensive as to his condition.

Tiger Given Gang Sentence.

Rome, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—A straight chaingang sentence of six months, without alternative of fine, was imposed upon Will Martin this morning by Recorder Yancey on the charge of having on hand liquor for sale. The case has been appealed to council by Martin's attorneys. In sentencing Martin, the recorder said that a fine seemed to have no effect upon the defendant, and, therefore, he would try a work sentence.

STATE FIREMEN MEET IN ROME

Hundreds of Delegates Are in Attendance on Convention.

Rome, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—The Georgia State Firemen's Association met at the city hall today at 9:30 a. m. in annual session. The address of welcome was made by Mayor J. W. Hancock, and the response on behalf of the association by Chief Thomas Ballantyne, of the Savannah fire department, and president of the association. President Ballantyne called the association to order and presided during the meeting, which was taken up with the business of the order.

This afternoon, at 3 o'clock, the departments formed for parade at No. 2 fire hall on Broad street. The line of march included every department that expected to compete for the prizes, and a magnificent showing was made. When the procession returned to the grandstand, an address of welcome was delivered to the state and interstate departments, which was responded to by Chief F. G. Reynolds, of Augusta, treasurer of the state association.

At 3:30 p. m., the contests began. Those for today were a prize of $25 for the largest visiting department in uniform; second prize, $15. Contest No. 1, foot race, open to all state and interstate departments; first prize, $25; second prize, $15.

Georgia Superintendents in Session at Macon.

Macon, Ga., June 14.—(Special.—Featured by the showing of displays of machinery, the annual convention of the Georgia Association of Oil Mill Superintendents met in Macon this afternoon. The opening of the convention was to have taken place at 1 o'clock, but had to be postponed because the street railway company did not operate any cars to Central City park.

President E. T. Holmes, of Blakely, Ga., is presiding over the sessions, which will continue throughout three days. Various technical papers will be read.

There are 251 delegates here from nearly every county in the state and from a number of neighboring states.

Gainesville, Ga., June 14.—(Special.) All the evidence in the case of Brenau Association v. Dr. A. W. VanHoose and Dr. H. J. Pearce, which was heard before Judge H. L. Patterson in auditor's court, has been introduced, and the case continued until the 23d inst., when argument of counsel will be made.

Bryan to Speak at Jefferson.

SILENT AS GRAVE ON SUFFRAGE

Undertakers Refuse to Act On Votes For Women.

Convention Hears the Resolution But It Is Too Warm to Handle and Is Placed on the Cooling Board---Meeting Is a Large One.

The Georgia Funeral Directors' Association, which began its annual convention yesterday morning at the New Kimball, is one of the largest gatherings of the kind ever held in the south. Practically every member of the 159 in the state is in attendance, as well as a number of embalmers from other states.

The tenth annual convention opened at 10 o'clock, and during the day many matters of interest to the world at large, as well as the members of the association, were discussed. At one thing, however, the undertakers balked. They declined to put themselves on record in regard to their attitude toward woman's suffrage. Yesterday afternoon, just before the business session ended, President H. M. Patterson, of this city, stated that he had been requested to bring the attention of the association to this matter, and asked that it take action in regard to it. They did. By a unanimous vote the motion to indorse votes for women was tabled, and the Georgia Funeral Directors' Association has put itself on record as being absolutely non-committal, as well as maintaining a dignified silence, when woman suffrage is discussed.

Transportation of Embalmers.

During the course of the morning session, which was devoted to business, a committee was appointed to confer with the state board of embalmers, and the two will decide on recommendations to the next legislature pertaining to the transportation of corpses in the state of Georgia. Several changes are necessary, says the association, and a few changes would make such transportation more sanitary. At the same meeting of the two committees changes of the laws concerning embalming and disposition of bodies will be discussed.

Not only are most of the members of the association in attendance, but many of them have brought their wives and daughters, and these are prominent in the gathering. Miss Geneva Bowen, of Columbus, the only woman embalmer attending the convention, is being greeted by many friends.

Morning Session.

The convention opened yesterday morning with a short talk by President H. M. Patterson, followed by the invocation by Rev. Charles W. Daniel, pastor of the First Baptist church. Owing to the inability of Mayor Courtland S. Winn to be present, Judge John S. Candler delivered the address of welcome, which was responded to by President H. M. Patterson.

The various committees then made their reports, after which Dr. J. P. Kennedy, president of the board of health of Atlanta, spoke on "Sanitation." Later Rabbi David Marx made an interesting address, advocating reforms in the matter of conducting funerals. He was followed by speeches by Past Presidents G. H. Brandon and E. F. Bond. Hon. James L. Mayson delivered an address on "Atlanta from the Standpoint of the City Attorney."

Attend the Theater.

Last night the visiting members of the association were entertained at the Lyric by the Atlanta funeral directors and casket makers. This afternoon all will attend a real old-time barbecue.

The second and closing business session will be held this morning at 10 o'clock, when the officers will be elected, and several talks made by prominent delegates and officials. The chief address of the day will be "Tuberculosis," by Dr. W. S. Kendrick, of the Atlanta School of Medicine. The public is invited to be present and hear Dr. Kendrick.

Sixteen new members admitted to the association yesterday were:

Wood Poullain, Madison.

Madison, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Wood Poullain, of this city, was found dead in his bed this morning. He died from heart disease. He had just returned from Hot Springs, where he had been for treatment. He was a prominent citizen of Morgan county, and well known throughout this section of Georgia.

59 STUDENTS GET THEIR DIPLOMAS

Annual Address to Tech "Grads" Made By President Reed.

The Pan-Hellenic at Taft Hall Following the Graduating Exercises Proves the Social Event of the Year---Fountain or Archway to Be Presented.

Fifty-nine students of the Georgia School of Technology, wearing for the first time the symbolic caps and gowns, were presented with coveted sheepskins at the annual graduating exercises of the institution held yesterday morning in the Grand. The house was crowded with people who came to witness the most impressive commencement ever held by Tech. The fore part of the orchestra circle was filled with undergraduates and alumni who, after forming at the University Club, had marched to the Grand in a body. After the friends and relatives of the graduates had entered there was not an empty seat in the house.

Annual Address Delivered.

The feature of the occasion was the annual address, delivered by Dr. George Reed, president of Dickinson college, of Carlisle, Pa. In a vigorous and masterful speech, Dr. Reed made a strong plea for colleges and their work. He spoke of the criticism of late years that has been directed against colleges, and admitted that there were defects in the system. However, he scouted the idea that their work is in vain and pointed out the graduating class as evidence of his contention. Dr. Reed closed his address with a plea for a more than mechanical education, saying that the first object of a school is to turn out men.

Chancellor David C. Barrow, of the University of Georgia, and Hon. N. E. Harris, of Macon, followed with brief but brilliant addresses.

Dr. T. P. Branch, registrar of the institution, read the names of those students who had gained honors during the past year.

Medals Are Presented.

Governor Joseph M. Brown presented medals and scholarship trophies to the following members of the junior class who have made the highest averages during the three years they have been at Tech:

W. F. Osborne, P. T. Shutze, W. S. Hazzard, W. A. Linton, J. N. Manry, J. T. Peacock, E. D. Drummond, H. N. Pye, J. W. Spears and F. A. Stivers.

The following students received degrees:

Civil Engineering—F. W. Holt, H. A. Kroner, K. C. McRae, W. M. Robinson, W. H. Goodloe, J. G. Hazlehurst, P. M. Coleman, W. F. Howe.

Textile Engineering—A. M. Burt, E. F. Chandler, D. C. Collier, E. Fallaibe, H. R. Smith, J. T. Stark, W. C. Wright.

Architecture—I. M. Auld, W. P. Barney, R. A. Burroughs, J. T. Clark, J. T. Crane, M. H. Levy, W. A. Markley.

Electrical Engineering—E. E. Hill, M. S. Hill, H. C. Stakely, Julian Walton, W. H. Woodward, F. S. Adkins, H. B. Anderson, B. E. Goodman, L. C. Benson, G. J. Kollock, E. A. Bleakley, J. P. Burress, D. C. Dawkins, J. A. Gantt, M. L. Donaldson, W. D. Kellogg, P. C. Herault, G. Novoa, C. V. G. Glover, E. H. Lyon, L. F. Green.

Collier Gets Medal.

A surprise was sprung on D. C. Collier, of Barnesville, Ga., a member of the graduating textile class, when he was presented with a bronze medal, the gift of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers of America.

Mr. Collier had maintained the highest average in the textile department for four years, but was entirely ignorant of the fact that his scholarship was to be rewarded with the handsome trophy.

The Pan-Hellenic Ball.

The annual Pan-Hellenic ball was given with great success Wednesday night in Taft hall. This dance, given by all the Tech fraternities in conjunction, was even more pretentious than the preceding senior and junior proms. Members of Atlanta's younger set and many out-of-town guests glided over the polished floor until early morning.

Thursday night the members of the recently graduated class of 1911 will hold their farewell banquet in the Mechanical and Manufacturers' Club in the Candler building. Before the banquet the graduates will attend the performances of "Polly Primrose" at the Lyric.

At a reunion held Tuesday night at the Piedmont, forty members of the class of 1904 gathered and decided to erect a suitable fountain or archway on Tech campus.

The following committee was appointed to make final arrangements for the memorial of the class: Frank B. Davenport, of Atlanta; Frank H. Neely, of Atlanta, and Bryan M. Blackburn, of Newnan. J. Walter Estes, of Rex, Ga., was appointed permanent chairman, father and custodian of the class.

Helps the Farmer to Sell

THE FARMER was worried over the market reports. Cotton was rising. When it reached a certain figure he proposed to sell. The day before it had almost reached his price. What would it bring today?

The farmer needed first-hand information at once. He stepped to his Bell Telephone. The Long Distance connection with the buyer in a distant city informed him that cotton had reached the top figure, and he sold his crop at a handsome profit.

The universal Bell System enables the producer in remote rural districts to keep in touch with market conditions without the necessity of leaving home.

MODIFIED COMMISSION GOVERNMENT RECOMMENDED BY ROME COMMITTEE

Rome, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—The joint committee composed of three representatives from the council, the Manufacturers and Merchants' Association and the city-at-large, appointed some weeks ago to investigate the matter of commission government, have recommended a modified form of such government, provided a majority of Rome voters indorse it at the polls.

A meeting of the committee was held this afternoon to hear a report from the subcommittee appointed by them last month to draft a form of charter suited to Rome's needs. The report was referred to the city council, and the M. & M., with the recommendation that steps be taken at once for the submission of the question to the people.

Under the proposed charter as drawn there is to be a mayor and four councilmen, each to serve five years, and so arranged that one member of council or the mayor will be elected each year. The mayor is to receive a salary of $5,000, and is to be the executive head of every department of the city. If the charter is adopted, the first mayor will be elected in April, 1912, and the first four councilmen in April, 1913.

The new mayor will devote all his time to the duties of his office, and provision is made for the recall and referendum, when asked for by 30 per cent of the registered voters.

Hotel Clerks to Meet.

TOO MUCH TASTING FOR COURT OFFICIALS

And as Result an "Official Taster" May Be Employed by Macon Court.

Macon, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—It has been suggested that an 'official taster" be employed for the benefit of the defendants in the prohibition cases now being tried in the city court.

During the last three days the witnesses against the defendants have been made to taste the various samples of rye, gin and corn identified by them. Today Chief of Police Chapman drank a little of each, and so did Sheriff Hicks. Both made very awry faces, indicative of the quality of the liquor.

They said, however, that the stuff was indubitably whisky, though of uncertain quality.

MISS GLADYS TILLEY,

Beautiful young woman, of Montgomery, Ala., who is member of the executive council of Alpha Delta Phi Sorority, editor of the official organ of the sorority. Miss Tilley will be the house guest of Mrs. W. C. Coles during the sorority convention.

WEDDING OF MISS NICOLSON AND MR. WILLIAM E. CHAPIN

The wedding of Miss Nannie Nicolson and Mr. William E. Chapin took place yesterday at noon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Nicholson, on Peachtree Road.

Bishop Nelson, of the Diocese of Atlanta, and Doctor C. B. Wilmer performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by relatives and friends and was a most impressive one.

Mr. C. Colton Chapin, of Richmond, was best man; Mrs. John Goddard was matron of honor, and the nieces of the bride, Mary Thompson and Mary Goddard, were the tiny flower girls who carried the silken cords making the aisle through which the bridal party passed into the drawing room. Here was an improvised altar with background of palms and fern, in front of which were massed ascension lilies and white peonies. Tall white pedestals marked the chancel rail and had on each a vase holding lilies and peonies, and there were cathedral candelabra holding lighted tapers.

Overhead was a canopy formed of smilax hung with valley lilies, garlands of the lilies and fern falling to the flowers beneath.

The wedding march from Lohengrin was played, and there was a beautiful orchestra program rendered at the elegant breakfast served after the ceremony.

The Bride's Gown.

The bride's dainty beauty was accentuated by her bridal robe of pearl white, the material soft satin with a long drapery of pointe d'Alencon lace over chiffon. The empire corsage was exquisite in combination of lace and chiffon and orange blossoms were effectively used on the gown. Her tulle veil was held to the hair with a chaplet of orange blossoms, and fell in soft folds over the long court train of satin. She carried white orchids and lilies.

The maid of honor was charming in a Frenchy toilet of palest pink satin banded in lace and with overdress of hydrangea blue chiffon, trimmed in lace. Her quaint hat was faced with pink and trimmed with a scarf of blue and French flowers. Her flowers were purple orchids and lilies. The little flower girls wore white mull and lace gowns with sashes and slippers of blue.

The Wedding Breakfast.

The wedding breakfast was served English style on the lawn, the entire lawn with canvas overhead, and trellis walls hung heavily with woodland foliage and vines. The same effect prevailed overhead, and there were palms and potted plants between the tables, at which parties of six and eight were assembled. Each table had as centerpiece vases of white peonies and pink gladioli with fringe of fern, the smaller tables making setting for the bride's table which was circular in shape and around which was a congenial group of twelve.

In the center of the table was a fountain of flowers, the spray falling over three tiers of white peonies and gladioli, and into a base of valley lilies, with here and there the soft tint of purple and pink orchids giving color. The decoration was beautiful and refreshing and the minor details partook of the color scheme of white and pink.

At the table with the bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. Nicolson, Miss Chapin, Mr. C. C. Chapin, Bishop and Mrs. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Goddard, Mrs. Knowles, Mr. Egleston, Mr. Tupper and Mr. W. H. Tayloe.

Mr. Chapin and his bride left on the afternoon train for New York, sailing the 17th for a three months' trip abroad. The bride's going-away gown was a smart tailor suit in gray cloth with violet-colored hat to match, and corsage bouquet of violet sweetpeas. She is one of Atlanta's prettiest and most admired young women, and since her debut has been distinctly popular wherever she is known.

She is lovely in character and nature, her manner indicative of that gentle charm which is one of the attributes of the most admirable type of womanhood.

Mr. Chapin, though a native of Virginia, has been a resident of Atlanta for fifteen years, and is prominently identified with the city's business and social activities. He is one of the most popular men in the insurance world of the south, and a member of the social clubs of Richmond and Atlanta.

Handsome Toilets.

Mrs. Fairfax Montague wore a smart costume in black and white. Mrs. Blanton wore a lingerie gown in white and a black plumed hat.

Mrs. James Dickey wore a white embroidered chiffon gown, her leghorn hat trimmed in blue plumes.

Mrs. Clarence Knowles wore a black chiffon and satin gown with black plumed hat.

Mrs. Nelson was elegantly gowned in black.

Mrs. John D. Little wore a white nun's veiling gown over white satin, the skirt inset with bands of chantilly lace. The corsage had a deep pointed yoke of the lace, while showing through above the girdle was a fold of apple green satin. Her white chip hat was trimmed in black paradise aigrettes.

Mrs. J. C. Hunter wore a white embroidered marquisette gown embroidered over rose-colored satin, her black hat trimmed in plumes.

Mrs. Thomas B. Paine wore a white embroidered mull gown with sash of pink satin, her leghorn hat trimmed in pink.

Mrs. George Dexter wore a pale gray lisse gown striped in satin with plumed hat to match.

Mrs. J. Carroll Payne wore a white chiffon gowh with border in blue, painted in a design of French flowers; her poke bonnet in white straw was trimmed in little French flowers.

Mrs. Milton Dargan wore a white embroidered marquisette. Mrs. William Lawson Peel wore a white voile gown braided, her toque trimmed in white flowers. Mrs. William H. Kiser wore a lisse gown in deep bluette shade painted in a design of flowers, her hat to match. Mrs. James Young Swift, of Rose Hill, Middleton, wore a white marquisette gown embroidered in blue and a blue plumed hat. Mrs. Don A. Pardee wore a cream-colored marquisette embroidered and trimmed in cream lace, her hat trimmed in flowers. Miss Ada Alexander wore a white embroidered mull gown trimmed in valenciennes lace and a flower-trimmed hat. Mrs. Thomas B. Felder wore a yellow marquisette gown trimmed in lace the same color, her Frenchy hat to match. Mrs. James D. Robinson wore a purple chiffon gown in graceful draped fashion and a leghorn hat faced with velvet and trimmed in roses. Mrs. Harry English wore a shell pink silk gown with overdress of violet-colored chiffon; her leghorn hat was trimmed in violet-colored plumes.

Mrs. Charles A. Conklin wore a blue chiffon gown over white, her black hat trimmed in white plumes.

Mrs. John E. Murphy wore a white marquisette gown embroidered, her white hat trimmed in white.

Mrs. Vaughn Nixon wore a white surah silk gown with overdress of blue chiffon embroidered. Her hat of leghorn straw was trimmed in blue plumes.

Mrs. T. D. Meador wore a pink chiffon gown embroidered, her hat in pink flowers. Mrs. A. D. Adair, Jr., wore a white embroidered marquisette gown trimmed in lace and a leghorn hat trimmed in flowers.

Mrs. Frank Inman wore a champagne colored voile gown trimmed in a touch of blue and a picture hat trimmed in flowers.

Mrs. Hollins Randolph wore a white embroidered mull gown and a pretty white straw bonnet trimmed in rose-colored flowers. Mrs. Frank Calloway wore a white mull gown with sash of rose color. Her becoming hat was in rose-colored straw trimmed in roses.

Mrs. John S. Cohen wore a white embroidered mull gown and a white straw hat trimmed in rose-colored flowers.

Hall-Fleming.

Interesting among the June weddings was that of Miss Clifford Hall and Mr. Paul Lamar Fleming, which took place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. George C. Hall.

An intimate company of relatives and close friends were present, and the ceremony was performed by Dr. Lingle, of the First Presbyterian church.

The bride was given away by her cousin, Mr. Prentiss Reed, of Birmingham, and her only attendant was Miss Alma Stanley. Mr. Frank Fleming was his brother's best man.

The bride wore a smart white tailor suit with a white hat, and her flowers were a shower of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

The house was artistically decorated with palms and white roses, and music and delicious refreshments were features of an informal reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Fleming left afterwards for Canada, the Great Lakes and the Thousand Islands, and they were followed by the good wishes of many friends.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Lacy Norton, of Arnoldsville, and Mr. Prentiss Reed, of Birmingham.

Ryan-Butler.

The marriage of Miss Mary Ryan and Mr. John G. Butler was a beautiful event of yesterday morning, solemnized at nuptial mass at 8 o'clock at the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

Rev. Father Kennedy officiated, and the attendants were: Miss Kate Murphy, maid of honor; Miss Helen Morris and Miss May Butler, of Savannah, bridesmaids; Mr. George Butler, best man; Mr. Frank McCarthy and Mr. Henry Aveilhe, of Savannah, groomsmen, and Mr. Harry Butler and Mr. Thomas Lynch, ushers.

The main altar was decorated with pink roses, palms were massed in the sanctuary, and the wedding scene was a very impressive one.

The bride, who is an exceptionally pretty young woman, was gowned in white crepe meteor, embroidered in pearls and trimmed with princess lace, sprays of orange blossoms were caught in her veil, and her only jewelry was a diamond brooch, the gift of the groom. Her bouquet was a shower of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaids wore white marquisette embroidered in pink, and the maid of honor wore white marquisette and lace. Their white hats were trimmed with pink roses, and their bouquets were pink roses showered with valley lilies.

The decorations were an effective use of palms, smilax, pink roses and pink sweetpeas. In the dining room the table centerpiece was a basket of pink roses and lilies of the valley, and festoons of pink tutee and smilax, sprayed with valley lilies were drawn from the chandelier to the corners of the table. The place cards were gold wishbones tied with pink tulle and lilies, the silver candlesticks had pink shades, and the candies and ices were pink. The bride's cake, embossed with valley lilies, was cut for the usual souvenirs.

Misses Mary and Helen McCarrick served punch.

Mrs. James McCarrick and Misses Mary and Helen McCarrick, of Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. W. W. Parker, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Ellen Butler, of Savannah; Mrs. James Kelley, of Knoxville, Tenn.; Miss Annie Rice, of Augusta; Miss Anita Butler, of Savannah.

Mr. and Mrs. Butler went east and to Canada on their wedding trip, and they will make their home in Savannah.

To Members of Progress Club.

On account of the death of Mr. Barney D. Golden, the dance that was to take place at Lakewood Park this evening, has been indefinitely postponed.

Bass-Morris.

A beautiful wedding was that of Miss Claudia Winfree Bass and Mr. Joseph Edgar Morris, which occurred yesterday at the First Methodist church, at high noon, a large gathering of friends being present to witness the ceremony. Mrs. Claudia Bass, the young mother of the bride, was matron of honor; Miss Adelaide McBride, of Savannah, was maid of honor; Miss Mamie Morris and Miss Annie Trotti, of Decatur, were the bridesmaids, and Mr. Oscar D. Small, Mr. Ernest Durham and Mrs. Carl Hutcheson were the groomsmen; Mr. Arnold Broyles, Dr. R. L. Palmer, Mr. Nym McCullough and Mr. Frank Calloway were ushers.

The bride, who entered the church with her uncle, Mr. Hubbard G. Bass, was lovely in her going-away gown of tan cloth, with trimmings of brown, with hat to match, trimmed with ostrich quills, and carrying bride's roses, showered with valley lilies, and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Richard Holland. The ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. S. P. Wiggins.

The matron of honor was gowned in white lingerie, combined with baby Irish lace, and wore a large white hat trimmed in willow plumes, and carried white roses. The maid of honor and the bridesmaids wore white lingerie dresses, with high blue belts and white hats, trimmed in pink roses and blue ribbon, and carried bouquets of pink roses tied with pink tulle.

The church was handsomely decorated with palms, ferns and pink and white roses and southern smilax.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Claudia Welch Bass, and only granddaughter of Mrs. Bass and the late Professor W. A. Bass, has, by her charming personality, endeared herself to a large circle of friends.

Mr. Morris is well known in the business world, and is very popular. Mr. and Mrs. Morris left for the northern resorts, and on their return will make their home in Atlanta.

Bridge Luncheon.

Mrs. E. A. Holbrook entertained at luncheon yesterday at her home in West End in compliment to her sister, Mrs. William Meacham, of Chattanooga, and to Mrs. Fred Lowry, of Chattanooga, who is the guest of Mrs. Samuel Magill. Thirty ladies enjoyed the occasion, and luncheon was followed by a game of bridge.

The decorations were an attractive arrangement of palms and white flowers, and, the shades being drawn, the house was lighted by green candles in silver candlesticks.

The bridge prizes were a sandalwood fan and an embroidered handkerchief, and the guest of honor was presented silk stockings.

Mrs. Holbrook was gowned in white marquisette, embroidered.

Christening Party.

A pretty occasion yesterday afternoon was the christening of the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Gunby, of Tampa, Fla., at All Saints' church.

They were called Rosalie and Gardner, and the godparents were Mr. Clark Howell, Jr., and Mrs. R. L. Cooney, Mr. Albert Howell and Miss Constance Knowles.

Porter-Rivers.

Rome, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—This evening, at 6 o'clock, the marriage of Miss Libby Porter and Mr. Edward Lloyd Rivers, of Anniston, Ala., was solemnized at the First Methodist church, Rev. Charles C. Jarrell officiating.

The only attendants were Miss Landon Porter, the bride's sister, and Mr. Howel Rivers, the groom's brother, lovingly rendering attentions as honor maid and best man.

Two little flower girls, Sara Porter and Martha Jarrell, preceded the couple.

Messrs. Tom Edwards and Lawrence Treadaway, of Anniston, and Leroy Porter and Joe Privett, of Rome, acted as ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Rivers departed at once for a honeymoon journey.

Lawn Fete.

The ladies of the Central Congregational church invite a general attendance upon the lawn fete they will give this afternoon and evening, beginning at 5 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. John L. Moore, 371 North Jackson street.

Delicious refreshments and entertainment appropriate for hot weather will be provided. The proceeds will go to the Y. W. C. A. building fund.

Birthday Party.

Mrs. G. N. Morris, of West End, will entertain this afternoon in honor of the fifth birthday of her little son, J. P. Morris. The house will be prettily decorated, the drawing room and dining room will have palms, ferns and American Beauty roses for decoration. The table in the dining room having for its centerpiece American Beauty roses, and the ices, cakes and bonbons all carrying out the tint of the roses.

Mrs. Morris will be assisted by Mrs. G. F. Finley.

To Miss Nelson.

Miss Elizabeth Ramey entertains at a matinee party this afternoon in honor of Miss Annie Melson, whose marriage to Mr. James Ives Barton will be an interesting event of June 28.

Farris-Logan.

Rome, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Miss Pauline Farris and Mr. Ernest Logan were married Monday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, in the South Broad Street Presbyterian church, the Rev. G. G. Sydnor officiating.

WALKER-HOPKINS.

Waycross, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—This afternoon, at Grace Episcopal church, Miss Emily Walker, the young daughter of Mrs. Alexander Walker, and Mr. John M. Hopkins, formerly of Darien, were married, only members of the immediate family being present. The ceremony was performed by Father Heigham. Immediately after the marriage Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins left for eastern points for a several weeks' visit. Mr. Hopkins is superintendent of the Hebard Cypress Company at Waycross and is general manager of the Waycross and Southern railroad.

DAILY FASHION HINTS

THE GRACEFUL FRILL-FICHU.

One of the smartest types of spring neckwear is the pleated frill which crosses the bodice in fichu fashion and is fastened at one side of the waistline, opening in a V at the throat. The chiffon blouse, worn with a dark mohair suit in this photograph, is simple and not particularly distinctive, but the smart pleated frill and the dainty pleated lace bonnet lift the little costume to immediate distinction. Fichus of this style are becoming only to slender, long-waisted figures and the short, plump woman would better avoid them.

Lyon-Nealy.

The wedding of Miss Agnes Lyons and Mr. Claude B. Nealy, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Lyons, 300 Simpson street, was a brilliant affair last evening at 9 o'clock. The wedding ceremony was pronounced by Rev. Dunbar Ogden. The maid of honor, Miss Esther Lyon, a sister of the bride, was beautifully dressed in a gown of pink satin, overland by blue marquisette. The bride was gowned in white and satin, with a garniture of pearls. The maids, Misses Eva Slider, Ethel Cawthorn and Florence Stevens, were dressed in pink satin and blue marquisette. The drawing room was tastefully decorated in a scheme of pink and green.

Immediately after the wedding the bride and groom left for New York, Washington and Canada, where they will spend an extended honeymoon.

The bride is very popular throughout the city. Attractive and talented, she has won scores of friends. The groom is well known in Atlanta. For several years he has been connected with The Atlanta Georgian, and is considered a valuable newspaper man.

Heart Dice Party.

A charming shower and heart-dice party was that given at the residence of Mrs. L. C. Matthews, in honor of Miss Maud Mae Wheeler, one of the feted bride-elects of June.

Daisies effectively grouped in cut glass bowls and tall vases lent a delicate touch to the handsome ferns and palms which formed a cool and refreshing background. In the large, well-appointed dining room, ices of bridal roses were served with cake and bonbons, the latter carrying out the color scheme of green, white and gold.

Punch was served by Miss Theo Thompson. The score cards were handpainted in daisies, and first prize awarded to Mrs. Kemp, a picture. The guests were Misses Wheeler, Bailey, Kiser, Cole, Thompson, Lindsey, Foster, McCauley and Loeb; Messrs. Smith, Foster, Kemp and Tutwieler. The hostesses of the occasion were Miss Lula Matthews and Miss Fradie Arbeeley. Miss Matthews' Titian beauty was in striking contrast to that of Miss Arbeely, who is of the piquant Spanish type. Both were ideal hostesses, gowned in white messaline, with filet of black velvet encircling their hair, studded in daisies. Mrs. Matthews wore black net with old lace.

Ice Cream Fetival.

The young ladies of Miss Kate Sutherlin's Sunday school class of Walker street church will give an ice cream festival on the Collier lawn, on the corner of Nelson and Chapel streets, Thursday, beginning at 5 o'clock. The proceeds will go to the Wesley Memorial church.

GOING FROM PLACE TO PLACE

Did Not Help Mrs. Warren, of McComb City, to Get Rid of Her Troubles, But Cardui Did.

McComb City, Miss.—"I feel it my duty to tell you," says Mrs. Mamie E. Warren, of this city, "how much good Cardui has done for me.

"Eight (8) years ago I had typhoid fever, and my health has been bad ever since.

I tried all kinds of medicines and even went from place to place, but could find no relief.

I had nervous spells and weak spells. I was not able to even look after my house, and I suffered such terrible pains in my stomach and bowels.

I read about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and bought a bottle. It did me so much good that I kept on taking it and am better now than I have been since I had typhoid fever, am able to look after my house and feel like a new woman."

Those who have tried Cardui know the most about it. If you need a tonic, won't you take advantage of the experience gained by others, and see if it will not do the same for you?

Your druggist sells and recommends it. See him about it, today.

N. B.—Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

Walker-Hoffman.

The marriage of Miss Susie Walker and Mr. Rex Philip Hoffman was solemnized last evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Second Baptist church in the presence of a large assemblage of friends. The ceremony was performed by Dr. J. B. White and was followed by an informal reception at the home of Mrs. Susan Quarles Walker.

Mrs. Eugene E. Wiggins was matron of honor and Miss Mary Agnes Walker was maid of honor. Miss Helen Russey and Miss Henrietta Dull were bridesmaids. The ushers were Mr. Milton Craig, Mr. Henry Hill, Mr. Frank Legg and Mr. Malcolm Johnson.

The bride entered with her uncle, Mr. Thomas Perrin Quarles, of Abbeville, S. C., and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. David Kirkland.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white chiffon cloth over messaline, made princess, with overdraperies of chantilly lace, the yoke and sleeves were of the lace, the neck embroidered in pearls and the tulle veil caught with natural orange blosoms, fell in graceful folds outlining the court train. She carried a bouquet of brides roses and valley lilies.

The bridesmaids wore white marquisette over white satin and carried pink roses. The church decorations were all in green, and at the reception which followed the house was beautifully decorated, pink and white roses and sweetpeas used with ferns and palms producing a lovely effect. The ices and cakes carried out the pink and white idea.

The bride and groom left for Washington, Virginia Beach and New York, the bride wearing a traveling gown of tan silk homespun trimmed in bands of golden brown moire with hat of apricot braid trimmed with golden brown velvet and pink and blue flowers. On their return they will be at home at 207 Grant street.

Miss Harris' Reception.

The reception given yesterday evening by Miss Jennie D. Harris was an interesting event among the younger set and a beautiful expression of hospitality.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Clarke Johnson, whose marriage took place in April, were the guests of honor, and two hundred young ladies and young men were assembled between 5 and 7 o'clock to meet them.

The house was decorated with elaborate taste, palms and smilax forming the background for a profusion of flowers.

The red trumpet vine was used with effect in the small reception room, and gladioli and sweetpeas in shades of pink were gracefully arranged in the library and drawing room. Delicious refreshments were served from the dining room, where the table was in American Beauty rose color and green. The centerpiece was a tall silver vase of peonies in the deep rose shade, and smaller vases were filled with sweetpeas in the same color. The silver candlesticks had green shades, and silver dishes were filled with rose and green candies.

The lovely young hostess was gowned in white marquisette over green satin with a trimming of crystal and lace. Her mother, Mrs. Clem Harris, wore black marquisette over white satin, and her sister, Mrs. Henry Johnson, Jr., wore a pink lingerie gown with a lavender girdle. Mrs. Johnson was gowned in white callot satin with tunic and corsage drapery of duchess lace.

Miss Louise Broyles and Miss Helen McCarty served punch, and assisting in entertaining were Miss Annie Fields, of Marietta; Miss Mary Helen Moody, Miss Gladys Miller, Miss Helen Thorn, Miss Emogene Thorn, Miss Helen Dargan, Miss Aurelia Speer, Miss Katherine Wylie, Miss Helen Jones, Miss Jennie Hutchins, Miss Margaret Thomas, Miss Elizabeth Rawson, Miss Emily Winship, Miss Tinsley Harrison, Miss Lula Dean.

Cowan-Grady.

Hon. B. F. Grady, of Clinton, N. C., announces the engagement of his daughter, Anna Bizzelle, to Rev. Samuel Alfred Cowan, of Montgomery, Ala.

The marriage will take place at the home of Miss Grady's aunt, Miss Anna E. Bizzelle, Washington, D. C., the latter part of June.

The wedding will be a quiet affair, with only a few friends and relatives present. No invitations will be issued.

Miss Grady is the accomplished daughter of Congressman B. F. Grady, who for a number of years represented the fifth district of North Carolina in Washington.

Hedges-Capers.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Wallis, of Savannah, have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Anne Keene Hedges, and Mr. Thomas Stacy Capers, the wedding to take place Thursday evening, June 22, at 9 o'clock, at the First Baptist church, Savannah, Ga.

Hardman-Braselton.

One of the pretty weddings of yesterday was that of Miss Almeh Hardman and Mr. Amos W. Braselton, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lamar Hardman, at 10 o'clock.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Millard.

Mr. and Mrs. Braselton left for a wedding journey north and on their return will be at Sweetwater Park hotel, Lithia Springs, for the summer months.

The home was prettily decorated in palms and white and pink sweetpeas.

Fuller-Kurtz.

One of the prettiest of the June weddings was that of Miss Annie Laurie Fuller and Mr. William G. Kurtz, of Chicago, which took place last evening at "Spring Hill," the summer home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. A. Fuller, near Smyrna.

The ceremony at 6 o'clock was witnessed by a large company of guests, who went from Atlanta on a special car, and a reception followed. The entire occasion was one of beauty and delightful hospitality.

Dr. John E. White, of the Second Baptist church, officiated, and the attendants were: Mrs. Hoyt Peck, the bride's sister, matron of honor; Miss Mina Fuller, another sister, maid of honor; Miss Lucile Moyer, Miss Alberta Malone, bridesmaids; Mr. Hoyt Peck, best man.

The bride entered the drawing room with her brother, Mr. W. A. Fuller, and she was lovely in her wedding gown of white marquisette over white satin, with a drapery of princess lace and an embroidery in seed pearls and silver. Her flowers were white sweetpeas showered with lilies of the valley.

The matron and maid of honor wore white marquisette embroidered, and the bridesmaids wore lacy lingerie gowns. Their bouquets were of lavender, pink, white and red sweetpeas, each having its center in one of these colors showered with blossoms in the other colors.

Mrs. Fuller, the bride's mother, was gowned in black chiffon and silver embroidery. Mrs. W. A. Fuller, Jr., wore blue embroidered mull and lace. Mrs. Otis DeWitt Lyle was gowned in white chiffon and silver embroidery. Mrs. Cola Spears and Miss Leila Patten, assisting in entertaining, were gowned in white.

The house was decorated with palms and white sweetpeas in artistic and elaborate arrangements, and in the dining room the center table was a picture in pink. The centerpiece was of sweet peas, the silver candlesticks had pink shades, and the candies and ices were pink. A delicious supper was served, the guests grouping themselves most of them on the vine-hung porch, and out on the lawn, which was cool and beautiful.

Mr. and Mrs. Kurtz went to the mountains of North Carolina on their wedding trip, and they will make their home in Chicago, where he is a prominent artist, his illustrations and other work having established for him a broad reputation. His bride, who is a daughter of the late Captain W. A. Fuller, a pioneer citizen and a hero of the "'60's," is a young woman of exceptional charm and winsomeness, and she has a host of friends in Atlanta who will feel her absence.

When a Woman Will —Well, She Will

(From The "Chicago Inter Ocean.")

"When a woman will—well, she will! A society leader of my acquaintance experimented for years with soaps and shampoos. But all her shampooing had the opposite effect she was striving for—the wetting made her hair brittle, coarse, dull; indeed, in spite of her care and trouble, it was becoming thin and scanty.

"But she was determined. She kept on—trying first one thing, then another.

"Finally, she mixed four ounces of powdered orris root with four ounces of therox. She sprinkled a little of the mixture evenly over her head, then brushed it thoroughly through the hair. The result was wondrously satisfying. She now uses this dry shampoo two or three times a week. It keeps the scalp clean and refreshed, and therox makes the hair beautifully lustrous, light and fluffy, and encourages its growth."

BOYS' CLUB TO CAMP AT SILVER LAKE SOON

Opening of the Camp Will Be Hailed With Delight.

The opening of the Boys' Club camp at Silver Lake will take place next Saturday. Fully 400 Atlanta boys are expected to attend, and the occasion is scheduled to be a glorious affair. Starting from the club house on Houston street, an automobile parade will extend through the principal streets to the camp, 12 miles from the city.

Probably thirty boys will stay over in the camp until Monday, while many others will probably begin camping thereafter. Many will stay throughout the summer.

A large pavilion is being erected, and many tents are going up at the camp. A large athletic field is under course of construction, and on July Fourth, a big athletic meet will be held. This will be attended by hundreds from Atlanta, and will be an auspicious occasion in the local world of athletics.

The camp will be under the supervision of Superintendent G. C. Dorr, who is thoroughly familiar with camp life in every particular, and has planned many big things for all the boys who attend the camp.

NEGRO CHURCH TO BE SOLD SHORTLY

Central Property Is to Be Disposed of at Private Sale.

The Central avenue colored Methodist church, corner of Central avenue and Hunter street, will be sold. Some time ago announcement was made through the press that the property would not be placed on sale, but officials of the church stated yesterday that since the injunction preventing its sale had been denied, the church would be sold immediately, and in its stead one of the best colored churches in the city will be built.

It will be remembered that the trustees of the church made application to the quarterly conference to receive the majority vote on the sale of the church. Several opposed the movement, and filed an injunction when the majority vote was cast. On Monday, Judge Pendleton denied the injunction, and this leaves the trustees the undisputed rights to sell the property.

BASKET MAKING IS A FAD OF THE MOMENT

As basketry will be one of the handicrafts exhibited at the exposition at Knoxville, Atlanta and Georgia women skilled in the art should exhibit their wares. Mrs. M. J. McAffee, of West Point, Ga., has had a class in basketry for years, and although the members of her class do the work for pleasure, several of them on their visits to the mountains in the summer have instructed the mountain women in the art. The native grasses may be woven into the most beautiful baskets and at expositions they are sold more successfully than almost any form of souvenir. Large and small, they are useful and ornamental and may be used for almost any purpose. The latest fad is the basket for the porch sun parlor, in which the jardiniers are placed. For smaller potted plants they are very much used.

The art of basket-making admits of much that is original and the worker fashions as she goes. Anyone having collections of baskets which they would like to exhibit at the exposition should notify Mrs. J. O. Wynn, Peachtree and Seventeenth streets. Among the Atlanta women who have collections of baskets from all parts of the world are Mrs. Robert J. Lowry, Miss Sallie Brown, Mrs. W. E. Stockbridge. The accompanying picture shows Mrs. McAffee, of West Point, and her pupils, who have made many beautiful baskets of all kinds.

Mrs. M. J. McAfee, of West Point, Ga., and her class in basket making.

THE KHAKI CLOTHES FOR THE MOUNTAIN TRAMP

"What shall I get for my trip to the North Carolina mountains or for the mountains wherever I go?" asked a debutante planning her summer trip.

The khaki suit for walking, and one for horseback riding she was told. It is not too heavy, does not show the dust and is really the smart thing for long tramps. With it should be worn the stout brown or tan shoe and stockings, and the hat should be one light in weight with little trimming.

The riding habit should be of the khaki, too, and not too long a skirt. For the long mountain ride, the divided skirt, of course, is worn, as it is difficult now to get any but the cross saddle horse.

Whether this be the most graceful mode in the park, in the horse show or in town, the cross saddle is the accepted style of riding in the mountains.

For morning wear at the mountain resort is generally the linen skirt, white or in colors, and a good fitting shirtwaist. There is a return to the fashion of the linen lawn and the dimity morning gowns prettily fashioned with lace, and the return is slow, but sure. Nothing is prettier, and "we would all prefer these as far as becomingness goes," said a pretty woman looking at herself in one, "but we can't get them made." It costs more to have one simple dimity made than it costs to buy the material for three, and then invariably it is not well made—but the matter of getting sewing done is a chapter to itself.

For afternoon and evening wear in the mountains the style is governed by the weather. In warm weather the lingerie gown, the chiffons and light silks are pretty. In cooler times, the foulard and the crepe de chine, the voile and gowns of similar texture are appropriate.

The hat question, too, is governed by good taste; the plumed hat having very little place in the mountains, no matter how stylish the resort.

SCHOOLS AT FAULT IN TRAINING NEGROES

Editor Woman's Department, The Constitution: I have and am daily reading the ideas advanced on the employment of colored help and on the domestic science problem of this city. I regard this page of The Constitution both helpful and interesting, especially to that large class of my people who are desirous of being good, honest and are trying to live clean and honest lives and to that class of the white race who must have help and are able to pay good wages for good service. I regard the domestic science problem one of the most vexing of the many in our section. The younger class of my people know scarcely anything of this science or their past has unconsciously put them out of harmony with honest toil with the hands. Many of them have interest only in their work sufficiently to eke out an existence. Too often good white women don't always realize the best methods of getting appreciable results out of an honest, hard-working girl or woman. Others manifest no interest in their negro help beyond the mechanical service.

The Danger Point.

Here is our danger point from more points of view than one. Poor people should be trained to get the essentials of life, and they hinder themselves in every way more than they can possibly hinder anyone else when they attempt by any means to do otherwise.

And yet, when we think of it, our schools in the south, for twenty-five years, have been preparing preachers, teachers, lawyers, doctors, musicians and every other sort of person except a poor laborer who was to furnish something to eat and make it possible for the great mass of humanity to live, and even the colleges and universities have often felt it a reflection when a deserving boy or girl asked to matriculate and learn a trade. Negro leaders who get their living from this servant class of this race have talked loud and long against industrial education, and set themselves in opposition to it so much so, as a rule, negro youths that are best prepared to work with their hands at good wages prefer trying their wits and entering paths of shame and idleness because they are ashamed to have it known that they are doing menial or common work with the hands.

Sham Conditions.

The great honest press of the south and the preachments of Booker T. Washington and others in the negro race are going to put these sham conditions out of business, and the negro everywhere will realize fully that it is a disgrace to be idle, and that it's a crime to loaf, and that all work is honorable that gives an honest living. Here and yonder young men and women are entering such schools as will prepare them for daily duty, whether that be a cook, laundering, coachman, maid, farmer, bricklayer, carpenter or a blacksmith.

Plans are under way to open the above institution on a large scale about the middle of September, and one of the specialties will be domestic science and preparing the help of the south in this great field that can mean so much that is good to my childrace. I am sure it offers a remedy for the many ills of the complex problem that you are daily asked to solve. It offers a solution to a condition that is becoming more dangerous in my own race that cannot well be put in pint. I commend most heartily to my own people this page of The Constitution, that can be a veritable school for them, and may I urge you to advise patience and encouragement for these thousands of women and girls, men and boys who have had no training for the work they are trying to do? I know scores of white people all over Georgia who will not have negroes in their employ who will not be decent, who will not put brains into their work and who are rowdy and bad, and who will prowl at night into places of shame and disgrace.

R. D. STINSON,
President Normal and Industrial Institute.

WOMEN REMISS AS CORRESPONDENTS

At a meeting the other day where a number of women were gathered the statement was made that out of several hundred letters which were written and sent out on a certain subject only about three replies were received. This is not unusual, and even in the matter of answering letters pertaining to social matters women are heard to excuse themselves on the plea of no time.

Business men are the most scrupulous of all other individuals about answering communications, and the busiest financier finds time to send courteous replies to all communications, ye his wife, the busy woman who really has little to do except what she pleases, has not even a desk or a place arranged where she can attend to her correspondence. And this condition is that of the average woman, too. It is funny in view of this unbusiness-like method of women in their affairs to hear of them wanting more responsibility and wanting suffrage.

And in this matter of their wanting suffrage it would be interesting to know how many of them are preparing for the responsibility by study of public questions, etc., and the principles which would direct their intelligent use of suffrage.

RECIPES.

RASPBERRY JAM.—Pick over, wash and drain raspberries, then weigh. Put an equal weight of sugar into a large dripping pan, place in oven and heat thoroughly, stirring occasionally. It is desirable to leave the oven door partially open, as the sugar is apt to discolor very quickly. Put a few berries in a preserving kettle and mash, using a wooden potato-masher, and so continue until all the fruit is used. Add hot sugar gradually, while stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and let simmer until mixture is quite thick, the time required being from thirty-five to forty-five minutes. The exact time cannot be given, as much depends upon the size of the kettle used, the quantity to be cooked, the surface exposed to the heat, as well as to the fuel used. During the last part of the cooking the jam must be carefully watched, lest it should scorch. Cool and store in small stone crocks, glass jars or tumblers.

Blackberry Jam.

Pick over, wash and drain blackberries, then weigh. Put a few at a time in preserving kettle and mash with a wooden potato masher, and so continue until one-half the berries have been used. Heat slowly to the boiling point, and let simmer fifteen minutes. If the blackberries are not juicy, it may be necessary to add a small quantity of water. Rub through a fine wire strainer, discarding seeds and reserving juice. Mash remaining berries, add juice and sugar (which has been heated in the oven), using same weight of sugar as of berries. Cook and store same as raspberry jam.

Preserving Small Fruits.

BY FANNIE MERRITT FARMER.

Fruit for canning should be fresh, firm and not overripe. If overripe, some of the spores may survive the boiling, then fermentation will take place in a short time. Canning fruit is really preserving sterilized fruit in sterilized, air-tight jars. To sterilize jars, wash and fill with cold water. Set in a kettle on a trivet and surround with cold water. Heat gradually to boiling point, remove from water, empty and fill while hot. Put covers in hot water, and let stand five minutes. Dip rubber bands in hot water, but do not allow them to stand. New rubbers should be used each season, and care must be taken that rims of covers are not bent, as jars cannot then be hermetically sealed.

Sterilized jars are filled with fruit, and enough syrup added to overflow jars. If there is not sufficient syrup, add boiling water, as jars must be filled to overflow. Introduce a spoon between fruit and jar, that air bubbles may rise to the top and break; then quickly put on rubbers and screw on sterilized covers. Let stand until cold, again screw covers, being sure this time that jars are air-tight. While filling jars, place them on a cloth wrung out of hot water.

Failure in jelly-making may usually be traced to the use of too ripe fruit. A jelly bag may be quickly made with a double thickness of cheesecloth and loops of tape sewed on the top in such a way that it may be hung over a broom handle or cane.

To keep jelly, there is no better way than to pour melted paraffin on top after the jelly has hardened, then adjust the covers. The old-fashioned way of cutting letter paper into circular pieces to just fit the tops of glasses, dipping them in brandy and covering the jelly, putting on tin covers, or circular pieces of paper cut larger than the glasses and fastening securely over the edges with library paste, is always good. Glasses for jelly should be prepared as described above for sterilizing fruit jars.

BAPTISTS AT WORK FOR CHURCH UNITY

Proposed to Unite Northern, Southern and Free Will Branches.

Philadelphia, June 14.—Efforts to consolidate the Free Will Baptists and the Southern Baptists with the Northern Baptists were begun at the convention of the latter here today. A committee will be appointed to negotiate with a committee representing the 87,000 communicants of the Free Will branch at Old Orchard, Maine, July 11. These branches split in 1800 over the "open communion."

Another committee will be named to meet a commission of the Southern Baptists' convention and try to unite the two organizations which split in the early sixties. The time and place of the latter meeting will be decided later.

Negro Killed by Marshal.

Louisville, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Marshal Grady Lynch, of Videtee, 10 miles from here, shot and killed a negro there late yesterday. He was trying to place the negro under arrest for carrying a pistol, when the negro resisted, reaching for his pistol. Before he could fire, however, the marshal shot him. The negro is said to have been a desperate character.

A CONSTANT ITCHING AND BURNING

Night and Day. Cried All the Time. Used Most Everything. Cuticura Remedies Cured Itching in 3 Days. Healed in 8 Days.

"I was taken with the itch in April, 1904, and used most everything. I had a friend pay me a visit from Cumberland, and she advised me to use Cuticura Remedies which I did. The cure was certainly quick, and I use them to this day. I had it terribly under my knees. I only used one box of Pills, but two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, and I use the Cuticura Soap all the time. I hope this will benefit others, as it has me, after Dr. —— and others could do nothing for me." (Signed) Miss Lu Johnson, 1532 Ninth St., N. W., Washington, D. C., April 3, 1910.

In a later letter Miss Johnson adds: "The trouble began with an eruption under my knees, and extended upwards toward my waist, until I was not able to sit down. It kept a constant itching and burning all the time, night and day. I went to my doctor but he could do me no good after I do not know how many medicines he gave me, and then told me I would be compelled to go to a skin specialist, which I positively refused to do. I cried all the time. Finally I made up my mind to try Cuticura Remedies, and tried Cuticura Pills, Ointment and Soap, and was entirely cured of the itching three days after I started using them. The healing took about eight days. I consider Cuticura Remedies marvelous, and would recommend them everywhere. I hope everyone suffering from any skin disease will try Cuticura, for it is mine forevermore."

The Cuticura Remedies afford the speediest and most economical treatment for skin and scalp troubles. Sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., sole props., 139 Columbus Ave., Boston, Mass.

Mailed free, samples of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, with 32-p. book on skin treatment.

SUGAR SECRETS WELL GUARDED

Congress Probers Unable to Make Witnesses Talk.

Efforts to Learn the Secrets of the Power of Havemeyer Fail---Haike, Confidential Man of Sugar King, Seems to Have a Poor Memory.

Washington, June 14.—Five hours was spent today by Charles R. Heike, for several years preceding last July the $20,000 secretary of the American Sugar Refining Company, in telling the house sugar investigating committee that he knew nothing about the policies or inner history of the company, particularly in the years when H. O. Havemeyer was its president.

The witness prescribed his position with the company as that of a "stock transfer man, bookkeeper and letter-writer." He ridiculed the idea that he was the confidential agent of President Havemeyer, saying he was not high enough a man for that. He declared the government had picked him out as the "mischief maker" in the alleged customs frauds charged to the American Sugar Refining Company, simply because it had to have some one to fasten them on.

54 Miles of Certificates.

The position of "stock transfer man" was a responsible one, however, he gave the committee to understand. For instance, he said, he had signed enough transfer certificates to stretch 54 miles, if these certificates were pinned together.

What matters the committee tried to find out about, but concerning which Mr. Heike claimed to know but little, were many.

One of the things was the interest of the American Sugar Refining Company in the National Sugar Refining Company. He said the former owned $5,000,000 preferred stock in the latter, or a little more than one-half, but he had no idea of why just a little more than one-half was purchased. Neither did he know whether the American Sugar Refining Company was cognizant of the claim, now under litigation, that $10,000,000 common stock in the National was in existence at the time it purchased the preferred stock.

Little of the inner history of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company deal was obtained from the witness. He admitted the American Sugar Refining Company loaned, to Adolph Segal, through Gustave A. Kissell, of whom Mr. Heike spoke as Segal's agent, $1,250,000, and that a majority of the stock of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company with the voting power thereof was given as collateral security.

Trust Loans Money.

He could not remember that the stock was voted, as the Pennsylvania refinery was abandoned immediately, nor could he remember how the deal was closed.

"The American Sugar Refining Company did not make it a business to loan money?" inquired Representative Garrett, of Tennessee.

"They loaned plenty of money," said Mr. Heike.

"Has the American Sugar Refining Company recently loaned any money?"

"Yes, to some trust companies."

"Don't you know, as a matter of fact, that the very day this stock was turned over as collateral to the American Sugar Refining Company with the voting power, an arrangement was brought about whereby the Pennsylvania company—"

"I don't know anything about that at all," Mr. Heike interrupted. "I know one thing; they made the loan."

"Do you know anything about the suit that was filed growing out of the transaction?" persisted Mr. Garrett.

"I cannot explain positively."

James M. Beck, counsel for the American Sugar Refining Company, told the committee that the debt was settled as a result of the suit.

It Cost Trust $2,000,000.

"We loaned $1,250,000 and in the end we got payment for the loan by returning our collateral and paying $750,000," he declared. "It cost us $2,000,000. That is a new way of receiving payment of a debt."

He explained the $50,000 was equivalent to a penalty under the Sherman anti-trust law.

Mr. Heike was unable to explain why President Havemeyer had such a control over the American if he only held in his own name a comparatively few shares. Again Mr. Beck interrupted to suggest that possibly more shares were held in the name of brokers, as was sometimes done in New York.

"The stockholders were apparently satisfied to re-elect the directors from year to year," said Mr. Heike, in explanation of Mr. Havemeyer's power.

"Did he secure the proxies of stockholders?" inquired Mr. Garrett.

Collecting the Proxies.

The witness responded that he did, and when asked the manner in which the proies were colected, said:

"I sent notices out every time to each stockholder. I would say, 'The term expires of three directors, if you please, be present to vote. If you have no time to come we will vote for you, and unless otherwise directed, we will vote for the three whose office expires.'"

"And they always wrote you to go ahead and do that?"

"Precisely."

Then, forgetting seemingly, the reserve which had characterized his testimony, Mr. Heike launched forth into a defense of the corporation. The occasion of this divergence was a remark that there are 19,000 stockholders in the American Sugar Refining Company.

"There are about 4,800 stockholders with dividends of about $330 a year, or $1 a day. The company also has between 10,000 and 11,000 laboring men. They get about $2 a day or more. Consequently we have about 30,000 people, of which 19,000 are capitalists who get a dollar a day and the rest laborers, who get $2 a day. And yet they are down on the corporations.'

This Drink Made a Hit In Germany

The Germans love Sinalco. Because they know it. You, too, will love Sinalco, as soon as you know it.

SINALCO SYRUP mixed wth ice water is a delicious drink. Put about one ounce in the glass, then fill with ice water. You can buy Sinalco Syrup at every good Grocery and Drug Store.

Until now, you could not enjoy Sinalco. For it had not been introduced into this country.

We put into Sinalco the pure flavors of eight choice fruits. We do this by the recipe which made Dr. Franz Hartman famous throughout Germany.

And thus we get a wonderful blend.

You can drink Sinalco once and swear it is made of plums. Another time you are certain it tastes of peaches.

And so on. Each time you detect a different, elusive flavor.

SINALCO

No one has ever ceased to be crazy about Sinalco. It is not too rich, not too sweet. Just pure, healthful fruit flavors blended in a wonderful way and shot full of sparkling sizz water.

It's so refreshing that one glass will chase fatigue right out of your system.

WITNESS NOT WILLING TO TELL GRAND JURY

What He Knows About the Alleged Lumber Trust.

Chicago, June 14.—Four witnesses testified today before the federal grand jury which is conducting an investigation into the lumber industry.

John E. Rhodes, of St. Paul, Minn., who is credited with knowing much about the alleged illegal and coercive methods employed by the lumber "interests," proved a reluctant witness. He brought with him copies of all letters, memorandums sent to him and the originals of all letters received by himself or Weyerhaeuser & Company, the lumber secretaries' bureau of information, the Northwestern Lumbermen's Association, the Mississippi Lumbermen and the Northern Information Bureau. He also brought what is known to the lumber trade as "The Lumberman's Code," and "The Book of Ethics."

Others who testified were C. E. Book, of Flandreau, S. D.; H. B. Scott, of Davenport, Iowa, and Walter M. Manuel, of St. Louis.

The investigation, it was said, would be ended within the next week.

Cholera on Ocean Liner.

New York, June 14.—A ship with a true case of cholera came into port today. The Italian line steamship Europa, from Genoa and Naples, dropped anchor off Quarantine and reported that a steerage passenger named Agostino Tavella was on board suffering from cholera. The patient is on his way to recovery. The Europa, with its 77 cabin passengers and 363 steerage, will be held at quarantine for the present. Tavolla is from Calabria, and on June 5, four days after leaving Naples, reported ill.

BUSY WEEK IN PROSPECT FOR PRESIDENT TAFT

After Celebrating Silver Wedding He Will Leave on Long Trip.

Washington, June 14.—President Taft will have a busy time next week starting on Monday with the silver wedding celebration at the white house. Leaving town Tuesday, the president will travel several hundred miles by land and by sea, will make possibly a half dozen speeches and will not get back to the white house before Saturday. The trip will include New York, New Haven, Conn.; Fall River, Mass., and Providence, R. I. He willl leave Washington for New York Tuesday morning; will spend the afternoon in New York and depart for New Haven that night. At New Haven the president will attend the Yale university commencement exercises and the meeting of the Yale corporation, of which he is a member.

From New Haven he will return to New York and Thursday night will speak at Manhattan Beach to the New York Bankers' Association and the Canadian Club of New York. The Aldrich currency plan and reciprocity will furnish him with subjects for these speeches. That night he will sail from Sea Gate, L. I., on the Mayflower for Fall River, where, Friday afternoon, he will make an address at the two hundredth anniversary celebration of the foundation of the New England cotton industry.

From Fall River the president will go to Providence to become the guest of the Conservative Club. He will leave Providence Friday night on the Mayflower for New York, and from there return to Washington.

BATTALION OF INFANTRY OF CAVALRY SQUADRON

Montgomery, Ala., June 14.—(Special.)—The Alabama squadron of cavalry, which has been in existence in this commonwealth for a number of years, was today converted into a battalion of infantry as a part of the recently established Fourth regiment.

Order to this effect was issued by Adjutant General Joseph B. Scully at the request of the squadron's commander, Major B. F. Noble, of Montgomery.

At the same time orders had been issued that the Camden company be mustered out of service, owing to inefficiency. The remaining companies are Montgomery, Birmingham and Selma.

Capital Women Want Ballot.

Washington, June 14.—Women in the District of Columbia want to vote. That is a privilege that the men do not enjoy. A bill introduced by Senator Bristow, of Kansas, conferring the right of the ballot upon men, however, is pending in congress. The district woman suffrage association, having learned of the introduction of the Bristow bill at a meeting last night adopted resolutions calling for its amendment so as to include women as well as its beneficiaries.

TARIFF IS DENOUNCED BY SOCIALIST BERGER

Wisconsin Congressman Says All Forms of Tariff Are Inimical to Labor.

Washington, June 14.—The maiden speech of Representative Victor Berger, of Wisconsin, the only socialist member of congress, was the feature of an otherwise dull day's general debate in the house on the bill for the revision of the woolen schedule. Mr. Berger supported the bill on the ground that it would break down international barriers. Representative Kahn, of California, and Moore, of Pennsylvania, spoke against the bill; Representatives Howard, of Georgia, and Cocke, of Ohio, in favor of it.

Representative Berger denounced all forms of tariff as inimical to labor, but did not advocate the immediate abolition of the taxing system because he said labor could not withstand the sudden change.

"The protective tariff was never designed to protect the working man," said Mr. Berger. "That was an afterthought and because the working man had votes."

He said the only protection labor enjoyed was to be found in the trades unions.

PANAMA BOND ISSUE WILL BE SUCCESSFUL

Entire Proceeds of the Sale Will Be Put In the Treasury.

Washington, June 14.—The government's issue of $50,000,000 Panama bonds promises to be so successful that there will be no chance that any part of the proceeds of the issue will go to banks as deposits.

Several large banks have tacitly offered to subscribe the whole issue if the treasury would permit them to hold the money. Secretary MacVeagh and his advisers have decided that the proceeds of the bond sales must be brought to the treasury to strengthen the working balance and replenish the general fund for expenditures on the Panama canal.

Bids for the issue will close next Saturday. Although it is reported that some large syndicates have been organized to take a large part of the issue, Secretary MacVeagh has not changed his determination to give preference to smaller bidders, if possible.

PORTUGAL FEARS ROYALIST INVASION

The Government Is Concentrating Troops on the Frontier.

Lisbon, June 14.—The provisional government learned on Sunday that the monarchists were approaching Chaves in great numbers. Republican troops were immediately concentrated there. Captain Couceire and Commander Coutinho, royalist leaders, thereupon moved their forces from the hills of Serra de Lourcce into the territory near Braga, which is the weakest point along the frontier. The government hastily dispatched troops to Ponte de Barca and Montalegro.

The general opinion is that the royalists will not attempt to force their way into Portugal. Captain Couceire with several hundred well armed men and other groups of monarchists have been observed along the frontier. The leaders in the movement are making constant visits in automobiles to the advance posts.

Last night the government concentrated troops in the territory opposite the royalist positions and posted artillery in the hills. Confidence is felt that any attack of the invaders can be easily repulsed.

DIPLOMAS AT LAST FOR FIVE "BAD BOYS"

Delaware, Ohio, June 14.—Five bad boys who twenty-five years ago beat it from Ohio Wesleyan university one night to go to the theater and were expelled, must have changed their "wild" ways, for today two bankers, a lawyer, a probate judge and a big St. Louis lumberman received the college diplomas they missed when they were temporarily lured by the footlights and what might have been behind them a quarter of a century ago.

The five men are Probate Judge Clarence Murphy, of Hamilton county; F. P. Blackford, a Findlay attorney; S. R. Greer, a St. Louis lumber man; F. B. Irwin, a Piqua, Ohio, banker, and E. D. Stout, a Circleville, Ohio, banker.

SPLIT IN BIRDVILLE---IN SLAGVILLE TODAY

BRIT'S PASSES COST THE GAME

Big Right-Hander Is Generous With Walks.

Forces Two Runs Over Plate in Fourth---Crackers Made Good Bid for Game in the Seventh When They Tallied Four.

By Sam L. Gilbert.

New Orleans, June 14.—(Special.)—Otto Hess rushed to the rescue today when the Crackers had scored almost enough runs to tie the count, put down the pugnacious visitors in the seventh and New Orleans defeated Atlanta, 5 to 4.

It was the last battle of the series and by winning, the Pels evened up.

Veasey easily outpitched Britton for six innings and good fielding behind him blanked the Crackers. Britton was touched up for clean hits that germinated into runs in the second and third. With the bases full in the fourth, Britton passed two and forced in a couple of tallies. A walk, a balk and a single gave the home team a fifth run in the sixth. They couldn't hit Britton afterwards.

But it was exceedingly soft to have Hess to stick into the box when Veasey was blowing in the seventh. The big Teuton wore a complacent smile as he coolly showed his hand and raked in the pot without a single raise from the cunning Mr. Corbin or the dangerous Mr. O'Dell, two of the best Atlanta players.

Watson Starts It.

Watson's two-bagger to left center started it. He went to third on a wild pitch. Foxen made first on Barr's boot, and then Sykes singled to left, scoring large Jules. A pass to Wells filled the bases. Britton's sacrifice fly to Callahan counted Foxen, the others moving up. Heine Zimmerman connected for a sizzling single to center, Sykes and Wells scoring.

It was then that Hess was shoved into the breach and Veasey dragged to the field hospital, weltering from his wounds. Manager Jordan bunted, and Hess, instead of tossing him out, tried to head Zimmerman, failing to get the ball to Barr in time. Corbin came next and missed a golden opportunity. He was called out on strikes by Fitzsimmons, showing his disaproval of the eagle-eyed umps by breaking his bat upon the plate ere he went back and sat down. O'Dell, try as he would, only succeeded in rolling weakly to the pitcher for the third out.

Watson, first up again in the eighth, lifted to left for a landing and was sacrificed to second. He made third on Sykes' infield out, but Wells flied to Butcher. Only three faced Hess in the ninth.

Near Scores.

Jordan was safe on an error in the first, stealing second. Sykes doubled to left in the second. Britton walked in the third, but after Zimmerman flied to Callahan, Jordan bunted a pop fly to Manush, and Brit was doubled off first. Zimmerman singled to right in the sixth, and Corbin promenaded. Butcher's running scoop off his shoe laces of O'Dell's line drive to short left was the fielding feature of the day, closing the inning. Veasey was a grand young heaver until the aforesaid seventh.

Doc Johnson's prescription was a smashing three-bagger to right center, starting the third. The Doc tallied on Manush's hummer to center a little later, Manush being tossed out trying to steal on Wells.

Nagle drew a pass in the fourth when one was out, and Butcher was as fortunate. Barr was safe on Jordan's fumble of a difficult grounder, and then Britton walked two, giving the locals a pair of points without the necessity of a safe hit. Doane whiffed, and Britton showed that he had steadied when Manush was called out on strikes.

Barr's reward for waiting in the sixth was followed by his starting to steal, and Britton's balk. Johnston's single to right field fence brought him in from second.

Callahan was safe on aWtson's miscue in the seventh, but Kirke's grounder to Jordan resulted in a fast double. Jordan to Sykes. Butcher made first in the eighth when O'Dell erred, and swiped second, but Brit whiffed Barr and Hess.

Billikens 6, Turtles 5.

Montgomery, Ala., June 14.—Montgomery won from Memphis in a thrilling game this afternoon, score 6 to 5. Elwert's home run in the ninth inning decided the game. The score had seesawed back and forth through nine innings, errors playing a conspicuous part in the run-getting. Memphis took the lead in the second and in the next inning lost it, and thus it went to the end. Among the features of the game was a brilliant one-hand catch by Swaim, who robbed Elwert of a home run and another by Jud Daley, who also prevented a bunch of scores by the play.

Vols 7, Barons 3.

Birmingham, Ala., June 14.—Birmingham failed to take advantage of Fleharty's wildness this afternoon and as Tannehill was ineffective all the way, Nashville had little trouble in winning the final game of the series. The hitting and running of Storch featured the game.

HORSE RACING ON CORDELE TRACK

Cordele, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—The first races of a three-days' meet of the Wiregrass circuit were witnessed this afternoon by an immense crowd at the tracks in the western portion of the city.

The meet has been given wide publicity, as a result of which there is an evidence of much enthusiasm among the horsemen of Cordele and throughout the area embraced in the circuit, including the cities of Cordele, Albany, Tifton, Fitzgerald, Waycross, Hawkinsville, Dublin and other towns. Many horses have been entered for participation in the races, which continue through tomorrow and Friday, and many visitors are here from throughout the circuit in attendance upon the occasion.

The result of today's races was: Lord Guyton won race in free for all trot with Flash Light a close second, Veteran third and True Tucker fourth.

The second race, which was a 2:40-trot and pace, was won by Golden Eagle, with Lord Ga. second and Crispo third. Jolter won the free for all running race.

United Wireless Insolvent.

New York, June 14.—A creditor's petition filed in the United States circuit court this afternoon declares the United Wireless Telegraph Company to be insolvent, and asks for the appointment of federal receivers to take charge of it. The company admits the truth of the allegations of creditors, and joins in the plea for the appointment of receivers. Christopher C. Wilson, president, and three other officers of the company were recently convicted of fraud in selling stock through the mails, and were heavily fined and sentenced to imprisonment.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

FORD IN GREAT SHAPE

New York, June 14.—The Highlanders won their fifth straight game today, Detroit falling before them by a score of 5 to 3. Ford pitched grandly for New York at critical times, striking out Cobb and Crawford in the ninth inning, when two men were on bases and only one out. Casey's wild throw in the seventh inning decided the game in New York's favor.

CRACKERS OPEN IN BIRMINGHAM

They Play Four-Game Series Starting Today.

Prough and Maxwell Will Probably Hurl Against Frock and Miller in Double Header Today---Buemiller Will Join the Club.

Manager Jordan will pilot his Crackers into Barontown today for a four-game series with the Barons, opening up probably with a double-header today.

The last visit of the Crackers to Birmingham was disastrous, the Barons winning both games played. The Crackers were revenged at Ponce, when they won all three, but they want revenge in the camp of the enemy.

Buemiller arrives in Birmingham this morning and will play his first game at short for the Crackers, Watson going to right field and Menafee behind the bat.

| ATLANTA. | BIRMINGHAM. |
|---|---|
| Zimmerman, cf. | Marcan, 2b |
| Jordan, 2b. | Phelan, 3b |

SOUTH ATLANTIC.

Palmettos 6, Peaches 1.

Macon, Ga., June 14.—Again the Columbians hit the ball today and won handily, 6 to1. The features were the pitching of "Dutch" Wagner, and the hitting of Lee and Habison. Lee hit a home run over right field fence for Macon's only run in the ninth.

Batteries — Wagner and Coveney; Schulze, Douglas and Kahlkoff. Time 2:00. Umpire Hoagland.

Electrics 9, Tourists 3.

Columbus, Ga., June 14.—Up to the fifth inning the result of the game between Columbus and Augusta was in doubt, but in that inning the locals took the lead, which was increased in the next two, destroying all the chances of the Tourists, the final score being 9 to 3. Breyette's fielding was a feature.

Columbus . . . . . .010 013 22x—9 14 0

Babies 10, Gulls 7.

Albany, Ga., June 14.—Albany won the third straight from Charleston today. It was a batting contest, in which the locals made the most of their hits.

Score: R. H. E.
Charleston. . . .100 000 042— 7 10 4

Batteries—Duggleby and Kunkle; Bussey and Luskey. Umpires, Moran and Rudderham. Time, 1:45.

Scouts 5, Indians 4.

Jacksonville, Fla., June 14.—The locals defeated Savannah in the last game of the series this afternoon by the score of 5 to 4. Wilder pitched erratically until the fifth inning, while Crabble was wild. In the tenth inning Hoffman singled, Betts tried to sacrifice him to second, but was forced out on the play. Weber singled, sending Betts to third, and later scored on Wilson's Texas leaguer over the infield.

PERTINENT VIEWS ON THINGS TIMELY

The deplorable incident at Lakewood Tuesday night, which resulted in the untimely end to the lives of two children, a girl and a boy, should teach an object lesson to the parents of children all over the city that will never be forgotten.

Stress has been made in this column before of the necessity of parents teaching their children the art of swimming. Had these children been taught it, their young lives would not have been snuffed out before they had reached their majority.

Parents are afraid to allow their children in the water at any time. Their fears are in the main well founded, but how much more healthful a child would be because of its ability to swim, gaining thereby the aid of an invigorating and health producing exercise and insuring its protection from any occurrences as the sad one of Tuesday evening.

Take this object lesson unto yourself, act accordingly and prevent not only any such incident, but alleviate the pain and sorrow such an incident would incur.

The Baseball Magazine in its recent issue has an editorial concerning "The Croaker," a most timely one. The editor comments on this person as being worse than a pestilence and expresses himself as being in favor of legislative enactment, were such a thing possible, to rid the country of such a pest.

"The Croaker" is one of those "I told you so" fellows who sits in the grandstand and comments on how the game should be played. When the home team is winning, he attributes it all to luck, and predicts dire happenings when they meet so and so. The nearest he comes to smiling is when the home club is in a losing streak. He then offers suggestions topping them off with the comment, "had the management taken my advice," etc.

The general public should patronize the game Saturday between the Georgia Railway and Electric Company and the Fifth Regiment, at Ponce de Leon park.

The proceeds of the game go to the protective association of the street car employees, a most worthy institution. This game is the only means aside from the regular dues whereby the association is kept up and is therefore a most worthy project.

As men who come in dainly contact with the general public and serve them faithfully and politely, the game gives the public a chance to show their appreciation of service well rendered.

TONS OF GINGER ALE ARE A TOTAL LOSS

Big Truck Plunges Through a Bridge Near Hapeville.

Nearly five tons of Red Rock ginger ale drenched the hillsides and flooded the valleys in the lower section of Fulton county last night, when a monster automobile truck of the White Garage Company, plunged through the wooden bridge which spans a small stream on the new road leading from the Central depot at Hapeville to the Speedway.

The truck, with its cargo of ginger ale, left Atlanta early Wednesday night, and was en route to Hapeville, Red Oak and other smaller towns for the purpose of distributing the thirst-quencher. All ran smoothly until the truck hit the bridge. The weight of the truck and the ale was too much, and the heavily-loaded vehicle fell through to the bottom, a distance of about 10 feet.

Proctor, the driver, was uninjured, according to Mr. Alexander, of the White company, but the ginger ale bottles were smashed into fragments, and the truck was considerably battered. It will be removed to the repair shop Thursday morning.

White Woman Fined.

Macon, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Two white women, Hattie Millirons and Mildred Nobles, were fined by the recorder today for fighting over a box of snuff, which the former claimed the latter had used without permission.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE WILL OPEN ITS SEASON ON JULY 1

By Walter Reynolds, Jr.

At a meeting at the College Co-op. last night the Commercial League was organized and is to open July 1.

This league will be composed of six teams: (1) M. Rich & Bros. Co., (2) Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company, (3) Davison-Paxon-Stokes Company, (4) Atlanta Waterworks, (5) Bellwood, (6) Otis Elevator Company.

The grounds for the use of the league were chosen as follows: (1) Cooney park, (2) Joyner park, (3) one offered by the president of the Trolley League.

A committee was appointed to get up rules for the league and to make the schedule. They will report at the next meeteing of the league, which will be held next Monday night.

WANT GAMES.

The East Point baseball team would like to arrange games with any fast team in or around Atlanta for any day in the week. We would like to get a game for Saturday, 17, especially. Any team desiring games please call Bell phone 166 East Point, or Atlanta 211.

M. RICH BROS. & CO. HAVE GOOD PROSPECTS.

M. Rich & Bros. Co., of the newly organized Commercial League have good prospects for the coming season. They will have a good team on the field and will give the others a hard race.

PLAYERS WANTED.

Several good players are wanted for the Bellwood team, of the Commercial League. Any good amateur players who wish to join a team will please come out to Cooney park Saturday afternoon.

BRONWOOD WINS.

Bronwood, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Bronwood defeated Parrott here this afternoon by a score of 9 to 2. Batteries, for Bronwood, Williams and Pruitt; for Parrott, Pinkston and Morgan. Umpire, Bery. Time, 1:45.

AMERICUS LOSES.

Americus, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Americus sustained defeat this afternoon in the first of the three games scheduled with Macon by the score of 7 to 4. Macon's team, composed largely of college players constituted the most formidable aggregation here this season and a great crowd witnessed the excellent work.

Smith and Ellison constituted Marcan's battery, with Wilder and Hooks for Americus. The teams play again tomorrow when hundreds of visitors coming to hear William Jennings Bryan tomorrow night will witness the game.

PAVO DEFEATS THOMASVILLE.

Thomasville, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Thomasville made it two straight by defeating Pavo this afternoon, 11 to 6. Brilliant fielding and opportune hitting by the locals made an exciting contest. Batteries, for Thomasville, Williams and Fox; for Pavo, Harrell, Reddick and Owns.

GAINESVILLE WINS.

Gainesville, Ga., June 14.—In a score of 8 to 2 the Gainesville nine put Buford to the bad in the opening game of the season on the new baseball grounds. The batteries were Gainesville, Hutcheson and Colby; Buford, Puckett and Orr.

WHITE CAPS LOSE.

Roanoke, Ala., June 14.—(Special.)—Roanoke won an easy game from Anderson's White Caps, of Atlanta, this afternoon. The White Caps either did not have the goods or were only baiting. Roanoke shut out the White Caps by 7 runs; good playing all round by Roanoke. Batteries, White Caps, Skipworth and Kimball; Roanoke, Pittman and Tommie. Umpire, Handley. Game at 4 o'clock.

Buy it once, and you'll always use K K K Flour.

BIG CORDELE CONCERN DECLARED INSOLVENT

Cordele, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—The first business failure in Cordele within recent years was recorded this afternoon when the dry goods establishment of J. L. Hollingsworth, located in the heart of one of the most prominent sections of the city, was declared insolvent and the doors closed.

The petition was filed by Colonel J. T. Hill, repreesnting foreign creditors of the house. The Hollingsworth dry goods house had been doing an extensive business in this city for a period of several years and the announcement of the failure came as a surprise.

Picnic at Cedartown.

Cedartown, Ga., June 14.—(Special.) The Presbyterian Sunday schools held their annual picnic yesterday at Huntington's Springs. The day was an ideal day for just such an outing, and many took advantage of it and spent the day in the woods. All report a very enjoyable time, and there were no accidents to mar the pleasure of the day.

Lecture by Hobson.

Cedartown, Ga., June 14.—(Special.) Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, of the Merrimac fame, wil lecture in this city Friday night. He comes here under the auspices of the Cedartown Rifles. The Lyceum theater is the place selected for the lecture. The money derived from this source is to help defray the expenses of the company on its annual outing.

PRINCETON WINS OVER BULLDOGS

New York, June 14.—Princeton won the championship of the Yale-Princeton baseball series in the rubber game on the National League grounds in Brooklyn today by the score of 1 to 0. In carrying the trophy back home tonight the Princetonians are idolizing "Steve" White, who pitched the best game of his career for "Old Nassau," and the allround support the team gave him.

A crowd of nearly ten thousand, made up of large followings from Princeton and New Haven and local admirers of the time-honored foes, witnessed the close contest.

TAMPA NORTHERN TO BE COMPLETED

Thomasville, Ga., June 14.—(Special.) That work will be started up soon on the delayed extension of the Tampa Northern railroad seems to be a certainty, from late reports received from Tampa. This road was projected several years ago, and about sixty miles of it was completed as far as Brooksville. It was planned to extend it to Thomasville to connect here with the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, thus giving that road a through route from Tampa to Birmingham. Several difficulties, financial and otherwise, interfered with the completion of the line from Brooksville to Thomasville.

The news that there is every probability that work will be started upon this line again in the near future is hailed with delight here, as the coming of this road will mean great things for Thomasville. To Tampa it means much, also, as it will give a through and short outitt to the west and middle west.

THEATERS

Bunting Stock Company.
(At the Lyric.)

Little Emma Bunting, supported by her excellent cast, is turning out some original work in "Polly Primrose" this week. She is in a role that is adapted to her style of acting, and is nightly holding her audiences spellbound with her magnetic work. With the role she is playing, and the manner she is playing it, and the superb support she is being given, the Lyric show this weeek is classed among the most popular. Starring with Miss Bunting are George Whittaker, Frank McMunn, Harold Kennedy and Henry Hicks and Miss Bertha Leigh and Miss Kate Griffith.

Miss Bunting says she is highly pleased with the cast this season and could ask for no better. She is able to "tone up" her work to the extent, and assured admirable support, is giving and will continue to give the Atlanta audiences all that's coming to them in the way of a good show, splendid scenery and effects and a perfect harmony between each and every part of the cast.

GUILTY PLEA ENTERED BY REV. NORMAN PLASS

Boston, June 14.—A plea of guilty was offered in the midst of his testimony in the United States district court today by Rev. Norman Plass, former president of the Redeemable Investment Company, who was on trial for using the mails in furtherance of a fraudulent scheme. Charles H. Brooks, the president, and John I. Traphegan, the assistant treasurer, pleaded guilty to "technical" fraud. All three will be fined instead of imprisoned, it is understood.

Shoemaker Gets $250,000.

Burlington, N. J., June 14.—Joseph Miller will quit his bench in a local shoe factory this week, following the receipt of news that he is the sole heir to a fortune of more than $250,000 left by Mme. Monchesi, a cousin, who died intestate in New York City a few weeks ago.

Aviator Frey Badly Hurt.

Ronciglione, Italy, June 14.—Herr Frey, the only competitor in the Paris-Rome-Turin aviation race to attempt the final leg of the course, lies in the hospital here with his right arms and leg broken and his lower jaw fractured. In periods of delirium he fights again the battle with the fog that was his undoing yesterday. Frey does not appear to have been injured internally, and the physicians believe that he will recover.

COMMISSIONERS MEET AT ALBANY

Federation of Road Authorities Is in Session.

Interesting Discussion of Road Problems Take Up Entire First Session --- Barbecue Given the Delegates at Blue Springs.

Albany, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—The Georgia Federation of Road Authorities met here today for its third annual convention, county commissioners from every section of the state attending. Reports indicate that the attendance will be much larger tomorrow, which brings William J. Bryan to Albany for a lecture in the afternoon and commissioners who could not be away from home for the entire convention have waited for the big day.

After organization at 10 o'clock this morning interesting discussions of road problems occupied the delegates up to dinner hour, when the visitors were taken in automobiles and driven to Blue Springs, a famous resort 4 miles south of Albany, where an old-fashioned barbecue dinner was served.

BOB BOWEN DIES OF AUTO INJURY

B. M. Forrester and L. C. English Are Resting Easily at St. Joseph's.

Bob Bowen, of Jewell, Ga., one of the occupants of the automobile that was demolished Tuesday night about 12 o'clock on the Peachtree Road near Dead Man's curve, died Wednesday morning at 3 o'clock.

B. M. Forrester, of Yale, Ill., and L. C. English, of Warrenton, Ga., who were crippled, were removed from the Grady hospital to Saint Joseph's infirmary, where it is reported they are resting easily. A. P. McCrary, of Salem, Ga., and T. P. Richardson, of Vicksburg, Miss., who were less injured than any of the party, are at the Sigma Nu fraternity home at Tech.

The death of young Bowen comes as a shock to all. He had graduated from Staunton Military Academy in Virginia, and had his diploma with him at the time of the accident. The body will be removed to Jewell, Ga., this morning at 7:30, and the funeral and burial will take place there. His brother, W. O. Bowen, of Jewell, arrived in Atlanta yesterday, and will accompany the body home.

When the car turned turtle Tuesday night, Bowen, who was seated in front, was pinned beneath the heavy machine. He was extricated by the heroic work of his companions, who saved him from a faster death of being hit by the street car, which struck the wreck after the accident.

Each occupant of the car was well known in Atlanta. They had attended the Junior Prom before taking the pleasure ride that ended in a tragedy, and four of them are among the most prominent students of Tech.

Hope for All Drunkards.

Boston, June 14.—No case of drunkenness, no matter how far advanced, is considered beyond recovery and no case, however slight, is considered to be without harm," said Robert A. Woods, president of the South End House of Boston, tonight, in addressing the final session of the twenty-eighth annual Conference of Charities and Corrections, the subject of which was drunkenness. Mr. Woods advocated state institutions for non-criminal persons arrested for intoxication.

BODY OF GOLDEN LAID TO REST

The Funeral of Miss McGill Will Be Held Today.

The funeral of young Barney Golden, who was drowned at Lakewood Tuesday night, was held from the residence, 128 Pulliam street, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rabbi Klinefeldt officiating, and the interment was in Oakland.

The funeral of Miss Harriet McGill, who was drowned with young Golden, will be conducted from the North Avenue Presbyterian church this afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. Richard Orme Flynn and Rev. Frank M. Gaines officiating, and the interment will be in Oakland.

Mr. and Mrs. McGill, parents of the dead girl, have partially recovered from the shock of the accident, and, although they have been in a precarious state, attending physicians state they will fully recover within a short while.

Mrs. N. Golden, mother of the drowned youth, has been in a serious condition since the news of the accident first reached her. Following prostration at Lakewood, when the body was recovered, she has been in a precarious state since, and doctors entertain grave fears for her recovery.

The entire city deplores the tragic accident. The young couple were very popular and widely known. The funeral of Golden was attended by scores, and many friends of the dead girl have been visitors at the McGill residence, consoling the grieved parents.

Leighton to Visit Georgia.

Washington, June 14.—(Special.)—M. O. Leighton, chief hydrographer of the geological survey, left Washington today for a trip through the south. He will visit Georgia on his tour and make speeches at Atlanta, Columbus, Augusta and Macon.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

GENERAL REALIZING SENT COTTON DOWN

Further Reaction in Market. Closed Barely Steady at Decline.

New York, June 14.—Notwithstanding continued dry weather in the southwest, there was a further reaction in the cotton market today, under general realizing and liquidation, and local selling, which appeared to be influenced by a feeling that the market was entitled to a considerable setback, following recent advances, and rumors that leading bulls were reducing their holdings. The close was barely steady at a net decline of 5@17 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 1@5 points, in response to the dry weather and better cables than expected, but there was heavy realizing from the start and following the western belt forecast, calling for increasing cloudy weather in Texas and Oklahoma, offerings became general. There seemed to be no more definite promise of relief from Texas drought than this prediction, and, after showing a net loss of 4@11 points, the market rallied 5 or 6 points from the lowest, on covering, trade buying, and a renewal of bull support, but offerings again showed a tendency to increase on the bulge and the market during the middle of the day became very nervous and unsettled. July was relatively weak, breaking to 15.49, a net loss of about 20 points, while the new crop sold about 11 to 15 points net lower. Another spurt of bull support, and covering by recent sellers, for a turn caused a rally from 13.54 to 13.64 for December during the early afternoon, but as soon as the supporting orders were withdrawn the market again eased off and closed at practically the lowest point of the day on the new crop positions. August was relatively steady throughout the entire session, selling only 9 points under the closing figures of last night and closing only five points net lower. Private crop advices from the western belt appeared to be increasingly bullish and detailed weather reports showed high temperatures again during the past 24 hours in Texas, but local traders evidently thought that the cloudy weather predicted might foreshadow a change in conditions and private wires received late in the day reported showers at Dallas.

Receipts today, 3,404 bales against 8,843 last week, and 2,096 last year. For the week 15,000 bales against 20,009 last week and 24,545 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 2,118 bales against 684 last year and at Houston, 35 bales against 434 last year.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, June 14.—Spot cotton quiet, unchanged; middling, 15 7-16; low ordinary, 12, nominal; ordinary, 12 13-16, nominal; good ordinary, 14 1-16; strict good ordinary, 14⅝; low middling, 14 15-16; strict low middling, 15 3-16; middling, 15 7-16; strict middling, 15 11-16; good middling, 15¾; strict good middling, 16 1-16; middling fair, 15 5-16; middling fair to fair, 16 11-16; nominal; sales on the spot, 145 bales; to arrive, 108; receipts, 2,118; stock, 73,311.

Cotton futures opened steady at an advance of 1 to 6 points on the old crop months and unchanged, compared with yesterday's closing, on the new. Cables were better than expected and the weather map was dry, so far as the cotton belt was concerned. An area of low pressure near Texas, however, was quite generally taken to mean rain and selling was heavy on this. After the call, the market sagged and at the end of the first half hour of business the old crops were 2 to 9 points under yesterday's close and the new crops were 9 to 11 under.

The market had an easy undertone around the middle of the morning, although the weather forecast did not bear out the hope of rain that the trade seemed to entertain. In no section of the belt was moisture promised. Selling continued until the old crop months were 10 to 15 points under yesterday's close and the new crop months were 13 to 14 under. Here, shorts took profits and a little long buying was in evidence and the market reacted a few points. At noon, the list was 5 to 10 points under yesterday's final prices.

In the afternoon session, the market was quiet and easy. Longs continued to sell out. At 2 o'clock prices were 10 to 14 points under yesterday's close. The weakness at the close was caused by reports of showers near Dallas, Texas.

The market closed barely steady at a net decline of 12 to 19 points.

Dry Goods.

New York, June 14.—The season of spring 1912 is beginning to be opened on men's wear lines, some few cotton worsteds being ready and prices approximately on the basis of a year ago. Cotton goods are ready, but in light demand. Underwear and hosiery lines for spring are being opened. Jobbers report trade as quiet.

Liverpool Cotton.

Liverpool, June 14.—Closing: Cotton spot, increased demand; prices unchanged; American middling fair, 8.91; good middling, 8.59; middling, 8.37; low middling, 8.17; good ordinary, 7.91; ordinary, 7.62. The sales of the day were 6,000 bales, of which 600 were for speculation and export and included 5,000 American. Receipts, 4,000 bales, including 2,100 American. Futures opened dull and closed easy.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, June 14.—Reports from Liverpool were good, but prices were not held, and our market showed a declining tendency after the opening, dominated by the weather news. Local trading was in favor of lower figures, and prices were irregular with narrow changes. The forecast of increasing cloudiness in the southwest led to the selling with a rally on the detailed Texas returns of no rain in the entire state. While the damage is prospective thus far, rain will soon be needed urgently. East of the Mississippi reports are generally excellent.

SOME OF THE STOCKS SHOWED MUCH ACTIVITY

Market Had Firm Undertone in Spite of Its Irregularity.

New York, June 14.—A large number of semi-active railroad and industrial stocks moved upward briskly today, but the standard mediums of speculation except United States Steel showed little change. Prices moved with the unsteadiness which recently had been a daily characteristic of the market. Perhaps the subject of liveliest interest was the present strength of the bear party and the size of its commitments. This faction has been generally credited with great activity recently, and with success so indifferent as to give rise to the belief in some quarters that its position is becoming less secure.

The generally firm undertone of the market today, in spite of its irregularity, bore out the theory that its technical position had been strengthened. In line with this was the strength displayed by United States Steel, which was believed to have been the especial object of attack. This stock held firm at a slight improvement during the period of weakness early in the day and later forged ahead of its usual companions and gained more than a point. Much of the active buying apparently was based on the belief that the short interest in this stock was so large as to make its technical position a strong one.

Probably the most important market influence was the showing made by the complete report of the country's foreign trade for May. A gain of nearly $20,000,000 in the value of exports over the highest amount on record for any previous May more than offset an increase of $12,000,000 in imports, although the value of goods brought into the country also exceeded that of any preceding May. Inclusion of May figures brings up the balance of trade in favor of this country for eleven months of the fiscal year to more than $500,000,000.

Further nervousness as to crop conditions was reflected in the tone of speculation in grain and cotton. The effect of the unfavorable weekly report from Washington yesterday was counteracted, in some degree, today by private advices from some sections of the south and the southwest, indicating a better outlook. Trading in local traction stocks was somewhat confused by uncertainty as to what action would be taken by the corporations concerned in regard to the proposed division of award for construction of subways.

Western Union, which had been the center of considerable speculative activity recently on the strength of reports of its largely increased business, receded a point on the publication of its report showing a decrease of $355,000 in net profits during the last three months.

The southern roads were conspicuously strong. Denver and Rio Grande suffered a further loss on account of the passing of the dividend.

Bonds were firm. Total, par value, $3,198,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Coffee.

New York, June 14.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at a decline of 2 to 4 points, in response to lower European cables and sold off slightly during the day, under scattering liquidation or local bear pressure in the absence of prompt buyers. There was no fresh feature in the Brazilian news, but the movement is expected to soon show an increase owing to the advance of the picking season and this may have inspired some selling, although spot supplies are firmly held in both producing and consuming markets. The close was steady at a net decline of 5@9 points.

Havre was ¾@1 franc lower. Hamburg ¼@½ pfennig lower. Rio 50 reis higher at 7$325; Santos, unchanged, fours 6$800; sevens, 6$300.

FULTON COUNTY HOME BUILDERS

"I am not able to own my own home." Is this not a common expression? And yet, it is almost true that any one paying a reasonable rent is able to own his or her place, with our assistance. Of course, it is necessary for you to have a certain amount of collateral—either cash or property—but we can be of vast assistance to you in securing a home. We are building many beautiful residences for pleased customers; the homes ranging in price from $1,800.00 to $10,000.00. Either cash or credit suits us.

21 CHOICE RESIDENCE LOTS 21

FOR SALE AT AUCTION

Saturday, June 17, at 3 P. M.

On the Premises

A SUBDIVISION of the I. N. Ragsdale property in Oakland City, located in the heart of the Tenth ward, surrounded by the best homes in that section.

THE LOTS front on new streets, one of which starts near Colonel Ragsdale's elegant home and runs into the property from Lee street. The other starts from Oakland avenue, between the Baptist church and Mr. E. P. Ryan's home, giving the property two approaches, each of which is from a prominent street.

CITY IMPROVEMENTS DOWN AND PAID FOR.

COLONEL RAGSDALE has given the development of this property his personal attention, and it shows it. The streets are nicely graded. The tile sidewalks and curbings are laid in front of every lot. City water will be run, and the sewerage system for this property, as well as for this section, has already been planned and adopted by the city authorities.

REMEMBER, that these streets are not just plowed lines, but are regular graded streets, with curbing and sidewalks down. THE CITY HAS ACCEPTED THESE STREETS, which means that they will be kept up by the city.

LOTS READY TO BUILD ON.

THESE are the lots to buy, either for home sites or for speculation, because they are ready to build on. In addition to this, every lot is a beauty, with nice young oak shade trees scattered over them. Also because their location is excellent. They are only a short distance from the business center of Oakland city. Only two blocks from the city school and near the churches, and the furthest lot is only two blocks from the car line; and, best of all, they are, socially, in the swim.

THE CAR SERVICE IS THE BEST IN THE CITY. A car every five minutes in each direction.

THESE lots should appeal to anyone looking for a nice lot on which to build a home, because the surroundings are correct.

THESE lots should appeal to the speculator and builder, because they are sure to be bought by good people and because houses built on them will find ready sale.

THESE LOTS AND THIS SECTION WILL GROW STEADILY AND RAPIDLY, BOTH IN POPULATION AND IN VALUE, because there are natural reasons why West End can not build in any other direction, beyond certain limitations. CATCH THAT?

BECAUSE this section has no objectionable features.

BECAUSE it is logically the place for the people to live in who are engaged in business or who are employed among the many industrial, manufacturing and railroad enterprises around the Terminal section, Whitehall street, Peters street and the Central and West Point railroads and the adjacent territory. The car service and the way the streets ETAOIN these statements to be true. Think about it, and you'll see it as we do.

SUGGESTIONS.

IF you have idle money, invest it here and watch it grow. If you are looking for a place to build a home, investigate these lots. They should suit you. If you want to build a house to sell, buy one or more of these lots. We can sell the houses for you, because the environment is right. REMEMBER that land is land, anywhere. Its location is what determines its value.

THE TERMS ARE RIGHT.

EVERY LOT will be sold on terms of $100 cash and the balance in $15 monthly payments, with 7 per cent simple interest. All notes will be made payable on or before maturity, so that you may take them up as fast as you like, thereby saving interest.

HOW TO GET THERE:

TAKE cars at the corner of Forsyth and Alabama streets, marked "East Point," "Hapeville" or "College Park." Get off at the corner of Oakland avenue. You will then be only a step from this property.

COME, AND BE SURE TO BUY. You will never regret it if you do, and you will be sorry if you don't.

SOUTH GEORGIA LAND INVESTORS

We are here to show the opportunities for making money in the south. We have just returned from a long trip made specially for our clients' benefit. ATTENTION. We are enthused over the inviting field of South Georgia lands. We have studied the future conditions of the lands thoroughly. We have had personal talks with banks who have been watching steady growth of the farmers' property in their localities. Now such men stand ready to back up any statements that we are going to make. The lands that are selling from $25 to $65 now could have been bought ten years ago from $2.50 to $15 per acre. We have options on about 100,000 acres in various sections of South Georgia; lands unimproved, near railroad, from $2.50 to $6.00 per acre. We have taken these options for your benefit as lands are advancing so rapidly. Some of these lands have enough turpentine and timber to pay for same. We saw plenty of improved lands and secured options on some after a hard struggle that can be bought from $10 to $35 per acre that upon which we can net, including the two and three crops you can grow in a year on same, $100 per acre. These unimproved lands can be bought in lots 490 acres and up at $2.50 to $6.00 per acre cash and terms. The improved land can be bought in lots of 100 to 6,000 acres from $10 to $150 per acre, one-half cash, balance easy. Don't hesitate too long, for options don't last long and prices will advance as soon as it expires.

Look at our special advertisement tomorrow on a fine tract that is worth one-third more than the advertised price. We know whereof we speak.

NEXT TUESDAY JUNE 20TH

At 3 O'Clock There Will Be a Grand Auction Sale of 57 Valuable Lots in the

HIGHLAND AVENUE ADDITION

THESE LOTS are located three hundred feet beyond the end of the Highland avenue car line, and are within a quarter of a mile of Druid Hills, a mile of Peachtree street and Piedmont Park.

BEING ON the highest point of the Highland avenue ridge, each lot commands a superb view of all the surrounding country, and has that splendid drainage so necessary to a sanitary and healthful residence section.

THERE IS a tide in the affairs of cities, as well as in the affairs of men, which taken at its flood, leads on to fortunes.

ATLANTA'S TIDE is now on and should be taken at its flood.

NO PLACE like Atlanta for planting dollars, if you expect to gather a big crop of values in return.

ATLANTA'S prospects are not fallacies, but are as bright and sure as the rising sun. The foundation on which Atlanta is building cannot be shaken. You know hundreds of people who have made money on Atlanta real estate. Do you know one single person who ever lost money on Atlanta real estate? That ought to prove that Atlanta real estate is a good investment.

THE NUMEROUS fortunes and profits made by investments in Atlanta real estate are so well known that we need hardly to refer to them here, or reiterate the fact that the early investment of a few hundred dollars has time and time again returned a fortune to the shrewd investor.

WHERE HUNDREDS of investors have been made wealthy by the investment of a small amount, the question comes home to the individual, "Have YOU done so?"

IF not, there is no reason why you should not.

YOU KNOW of the fame of Atlanta. You know of the great fortunes that have been made here on real estate.

YOU KNOW men who have invested small amounts in Atlanta and gotten rich in a short time.

YOU KNOW this is being done now and will be done tomorrow.

YOU KNOW what men have done before; do you not believe men will again do the same?

YOU HAVE the experience of the past before you on which to build your hopes for the future.

THE PRESENT is exceeding the past, the future promises still brighter.

DO YOU want to come in on the rising tide of Atlanta's prosperity?

DO YOU want, with a limited capital, to secure a safe and profitable investment?

RIGHT NOW, today, this minute, Atlanta real estate is the best and safest investment on earth.

FORTUNATE is the man who owns Atlanta real estate. The more he owns, the more fortunate he is.

ATLANTA real estate is a sure road to fortune. Every dollar you can get together, place it in Atlanta real estate. Buy anywhere from one end to the other. You can't lose. It's absolutely safe.

DID YOU ever stop to think of how often in the past a small sum invested with care in Atlanta real estate has made men independently rich?

CONSERVATIVE people believe that Atlanta in five years will have a population of 200,000 people. This means an increase of 50,000 people.

THINK of the effect on real estate.

SUCH AN increase in population would double real estate values many times over. Those who invest small sums would then be numbered among the wealthy. You will never make money quicker, surer or easier, than by purchasing lots in the Highland Avenue addition.

SHREWD capitalists and business men who have made money before, are setting the pace and are putting every dollar they can rake and scrape to the purchase of real estate in Atlanta.

AND PEOPLE of moderate circumstances are wisely following in their foot-steps.

AN INVESTMENT that will make money for you tomorrow, will make money for you today, and the sooner you get it, the more you will have.

DELAY PAYS no dividend.

YOUR FUTURE is in your own hands. Atlanta will help you make it a success.

SUCCESS does not consist of never making mistakes, but in never making the same one twice.

YOU HAVE missed other opportunities, don't miss this one.

YOU WILL think twice before you miss this great opportunity.

THINKING TWICE has made fortunes.

RIGHT NOW is the time to put your money in Atlanta real estate, for the returns will be large, sure and certain.

THIS SALE is a real, genuine opportunity.

WILL YOU buy now or wait and pay double present prices?

TERMS OF SALE, 1-4 cash, balance, 6, 12, 18 and 24 months, with 7 per cent interest.

DOGS PROTECTED BODY OF THEIR DEAD MASTER

New Orleans, June 14.—Attracted by the dismal howl of dogs, policemen yesterday found the body of L. J. Plummer, 61 years old, in secluded rooming quarters in Dauphine street, after a hard fight with Plummer's sole companions—three dogs.

When the officers attempted to enter the room the dogs made a concerted attack on them, and it was not until the dogs had been beaten senseless that Plummer's body could be removed to the morgue. Little is known of Plummer except that the three dogs were his constant companions.

There is no suspicion of foul play.

QUARRELED WITH GIRL AND TRIED TO SUICIDE

Frank Marshall Attempts to Hang Self on Porch of Sweetheart's Home.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 14.—Frank Marshall, 19 years old, is under arrest here today on a charge of attempted suicide. He called on his fiance, Miss Nellie Tryer last night and left late in the evening, down-hearted after a lovers' quarrel. He stood outside the house for a time, and finally decided to get his revenge by committing suicide on the porch of the young women's home. He picked up a rope in a yard nearby and after the household had retired, proceeded to carry out his plan. He fastened the rope to one of the porch posts and climbed into the noose from a box which he planned to kick out from under his feet when all was ready.

The box caught on a board and would not budge. Meanwhile Marshall made such a racket endeavoring to complete his attempt at suicide that the girl's brother was aroused and proceeded to investigate. He cut the young man down and called in a pair of policemen who made the arrest.

Bail Reduced For Girls.

New York, June 14.—Bail in the cases of Lillian Graham, a chorus girl, and Ethel Conrad, an illustrator, charged with the shooting of W. E. D. Stokes, the millionaire horseman, was reduced today from $25,000 to $15,000 each in the East Side court. A further reduction in bail will be asked for. Stokes is rapidly recovering.

EXCURSION TO WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH VIA SEABOARD.

CHARGE THAT LAWLER BEAT WIFE TO DEATH

Whipping Followed Wife's Objection to Storing of Liquor in Her Home.

Spartanburg, S. C., June 14.—The coroner's jury investigating the death of Mary Lawler, who died Tuesday at the home of relatives in the upper part of this county, returned a verdict today that the woman came to her death from a whipping administered by her husband, Andrew Lawler.

The whipping occurred at Lawler's home near Saluda, N. C., and was the result of his wife's objection to the storing of liquor in her home. Lawler was arrested today near Arlington, in this county, and is being held by the authorities.

The funeral of J. J. Hobby, who died Monday night, will be held from the Central Congregational church this afternoon at 4 o'clock, and the interment will be in Oakland.

L. S. Collins.

L. S. Collins, aged 76, died at a private sanatorium yesterday morning at 3 o'clock. The funeral will be held from Poole's chapel this afternoon at 4 o'clock, and the interment will be in Tallapoosa.

Infant of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell.

The infant of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mitchell died at a private sanatorium yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The body was removed to Poole's chapel, and funeral arrangements will be made later.

W. T. Dicken, McDonough.

McDonough, Ga., June 14.—(Special.) Judge W. T. Dicken died at his home in McDonough at 10:30 Tuesday night after an illness of three days. He was for many years one of the leading attorneys of Henry county and for many years was an active figure in politics of the state. He represented this county in the legislature in 1878-1879, and in 1884 was appointed judge of the county court of Henry county. He is survived by his wife, two brothers, John R. Dicken, of Locust Grove, and Dr. H. B. Dicken, of Ocilla, and one sister, Mrs. R. N. Callaway, of Locust Grove. The funeral and interment were held at Bethany church Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Preparing for Coronation.

London, June 14.—With the hourly influx of foreign visitors the streets of London exhibit extraordinary scenes of life and bustle. All the places of amusement are filled nightly. Public vehicles and sidewalks are crowded with people watching the preparations for the coronation, the decorative schemes being sufficiently advanced to attract sightseers. Field Marshal Lord Kitchener today inspected the Indian contingent, encamped at Hampton Court. It was a brilliant scene, recalling the gorgeous east.

Morse Acquitted.

Macon, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—Because he was only a clerk, a jury in the city court today acquitted Pat Morse, a young Irishman, employed by Mrs. J. J. Flahive as clerk, on the charge of violating the prohibition law. There was no dispute as to his having handled liquor, but it was contended that he did not keep whisky at his place of business, because the store was owned by another. The jury also took this view of it.

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—To the Superior Court of Said County: The petition of Frederick Kauffmann and J. L. Anderson, both of said County, and T. R. Lombard, of New York County, State of New York, respectfully shows:

1. That they desire for themselves, their associates, successors and assigns, to be incorporated and made a body corporate under the laws of the State of Georgia and under the name and style of "THE GEORGIA PULP WOOD COMPANY."

2. The object and purpose of said incorporation is pecuniary gain and profit to its stockholders.

3. The particular business in which said corporation will engage is the manufacture of paper, wood pulp and all matters incidental thereto; the carrying on of what is known as logging operations; the sawing and manufacture of timber and lumber of all kinds and characters whatsoever; the buying, leasing and selling of timber of all kinds and characters, and the sawing and manufacturing of the same into lumber and into pulp wood; the selling of its products of all characters and kinds whatsoever; and the leasing or buying of lands appropriate to the purposes and objects hereinbefore stated.

4. And to this end it is desired that said corporation shall have the right to buy, lease, own, sell and improve and to operate and use all such real estate, timber, timber lands and personal property as may be necessary to its ends and to the purposes of its creation.

5. Petitioners desire that said corporation shall have the right to buy, own, sell, improve and otherwise deal in all kinds of property, both real and personal, and to engage in any kind of business and to make and enter into any kind of contract which may contribute, or be incidental, to the profitable conduct of the business of the said corporation.

6. Petitioners desire that said corporation shall have the right and power to borrow money and to give or issue its notes, bonds and other evidences of indebtedness therefor and to secure the same by mortgage, deed or other lien or encumbrance upon any or all of its real or personal property, as in its judgment may be needful for the furtherance of its business; and likewise to lend money and to receive therefor notes and other evidences of indebtedness and security such as in its judgment may be for its best interest; and to indorse and guarantee the notes and obligations of others whenever it is deemed to be to the interest of the corporation so to do.

7. Petitioners further desire that said corporation shall have the right and power to build and operate tramways or railroads for its private purposes and over its own lands or those over which it may procure rights-of-way; and to operate for its private purposes steamboat lines over such streams or water courses as it may procure the right to use; and in every other particular to use such means as may be necessary in its judgment to carry out the main purposes and objects of the incorporation.

8. That said corporation shall have the power to sue and be sued, to have and use a common seal, make by-laws for its government, elect such boards of directors or other governing bodies or officers as may be deemed best, and generally to have vested in it all the rights, powers and privileges usual and proper to be enjoyed by a corporation of its character under the laws of the State of Georgia.

9. The capital stock of said corporation shall be One Million Dollars ($1,000,000.00), divided into shares of Ten Dollars ($10.00) each. It is desired that said corporation shall have the right to conduct business and exercise its corporate powers and privileges when its capital stock has been fully subscribed for and not less than 10 per cent (10 per cent) thereof paid in; that it shall have the right, power and privilege to increase its capital stock and to issue either preferred or common stock, as may be determined upon from time to time, to such an amount as may be desired, not exceeding Two Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($2,500,000.00), such increase of capital stock to be authorized by a vote of the majority in amount of the stockholders at the particular time; and by such majority vote also to determine at any particular time the proportion of any increase of stock to be issued as preferred stock; that by such majority vote it shall have the right to guarantee from the earnings of the company, in such wise as it deems best, an annual dividend upon its preferred stock, not to exceed eight (8) per cent per annum, and the repayment upon dissolution or liquidation, from the assets of the company after payment of debts, of the par value of such preferred stock.

10. Petitioners desire that said corporation shall have the right and power to receive at a fair valuation all kinds of property, both real and personal, suitable for the purposes of its organization, including franchises and good will, for the payment of subscriptions to the capital stock.

11. That said corporation shall have the right, power and privilege of reducing its capital stock from time to time to such an amount as may be desired not less than One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000.00), upon the vote of the holders of a majority in amount of the capital stock then outstanding; to wind up its business and distribute all of its assets among its stockholders in accordance with the terms and conditions upon which said stock is issued and in proportion to their holdings; and to amend its charter in form or in substance, whenever, in the judgment of the holders of a majority as to amount of said capital stock, it shall be to the interest of said corporation to do so.

12. Petitioners show that the principal office of said corporation is to be in the City of Atlanta, Fulton County, Georgia, but they desire that said corporation shall have the right and power to establish branch offices and to transact any of the business authorized by this charter or by law in such other places in the State of Georgia or elsewhere as may seem desirable.

WHEREFORE, petitioners pray that, upon the compliance by them with the provisions of law in such cases made and provided, that they, their associates, successors and assigns, be incorporated and made a body corporate for and during the term of twenty (20) years, with the privilege of renewal at the expiration of that time and thereafter from time to time as may be allowed by law, under the name and style aforesaid, and with all the powers, rights and privileges set forth in this petition, and which, under the laws of this State, are usually enjoyed by corporations of like character.

ANDERSON, FELDER, ROUNTREE & WILSON,
Attorneys for Petitioners.

ARNOLD BROYLES, Clerk.

STATE OF GEORGIA, COUNTY OF FULTON—I, Arnold Broyles, Clerk of the Superior Court of said county, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of the application for charter of The Georgia Pulp Wood Company, as the same appears of file in this office.

Witness my official signature and the seal of said Court, this June 14, 1911.

INFORMATION DENIED BY THE PAPER COMBINE

Trust Won't Tell Congress About Purchase Price of Merged Properties.

Washington, June 14.—The International Paper Company has written to Chairman Penrose, of the senate finance committee, refusing to furnish information Senator Penrose has asked respecting the purchase price of the properties merged into the International company, and whether paid for in cash, bonds or otherwise.

The company, through its representative, Chester W. Lyman, says there are several reasons for its refusal:

First, because it has not appeared before the present finance committee, and, second, "there are business reasons entirely aside from the purposes of your investigation which would make us unwilling to publish broadcast news of the facts asked for."

INSANITY PLEA MADE FOR COL. E. W. HUBBARD

Plea Puzzles Court Martial and Washington Is Asked to Settle.

Galveston, Texas, June 14.—The department of war has been asked to say what should be the procedure in a court-martial where the defense sets up a plea that the defendant is insane. In the trial of Lieutenant Colonel Elmer W. Hubbard, who is charged with conduct prejudicial to good order and military discipline, counsel for Hubbard first pleaded that he was "mentally irresponsible" when the offense is alleged to have been committed. This, the department held, in instructions to Colonel J. W. White, president of the court-martial, was not sufficient grounds to interrupt the trial. Now it is contended that Hubbard, at the present time, is insane. Until a ruling is had from Washington the trial will be suspended and a number of witnesses, whose commands have been ordered to report to their regular stations, will be detained in Galveston.

THE LARGE NUMBER OF PIANO BUYERS AT WESTER'S

Have You Attended the Sale?

If Not, You Had Better Do So at Once—The Bargains Are Fast Being Taken by the Appreciative, Discriminating Buyers—While We Are Closing Out the Gordon & Reed Stock.

The Good Makes, the Best Makes Are Going at a Great Saving in Price, Many at About Half Value, and on Terms to Suit—Open Evenings—64 Peachtree Street.

Did you attend the sale yesterday?
Somewhat of a rush, was it not?

Well, consider the fact that such pianos as Chickering, Hallet & Davis, Kurtzman, McPhail, Kimball, Bur Bros., Webster, Aschenbach, Newborn, Martin Bros., Fredrick, Emory, etc., are selling at reductions of $100.00, $125.00, $150.00, $175.00, $200.00 and $250.00, do you wonder that people flock to Wester's Store?

In addition to these good, old reliable makes of pianos, you will find some of the best makes in player-pianos and electric pianos that sell at retail in any other store for $600.00, $650.00, $700.00 and $850.00. To close out at $228.00, $263.00, $287.00, $318.00 and $346.00. Some of them are new and some slightly store-worn. In addition to these very low prices, we offer terms to suit your convenience.

Yesterday was the banner day of this great sale. If every day's result is equally as good, the entire stock will be taken long before the advertised closing date of the sale.

Perhaps you have not yet visited the sale. If you need a Piano and have not been here this week, you are standing in your own light, taking desperate chances, for we really believe this to be the grandest money-saving opportunity on good Pianos ever offered here or elsewhere.

Don't put the matter off another hour. Come to this sale if you need a Piano. If unable to call at once, 'phone us the hour you can be here and tell us to reserve one of these great bargains for you. Take prompt action of some kind. Don't allow this opportunity to slip by.

Just as soon as you read this put on your hat, put a $10 bill in your pocket, or as much more as you wish to pay, and come straight to the Wester store.

Come and select an instrument, have it sent to your home, and while you and the children are enjoying the pleasure and satisfaction of its sweet music you can be paying for it, on little payments, if you so desire.

Come to the sale and let us show you the most wonderful bargains in good Pianos you will ever have offered you.

Consider again the makes, the old makes, the good makes that are going at this awful sacrifice in price. Why, such Pianos were never before sold with'n $150, $175, $200 and even $250 of these cut prices.

PIANO FOR EVERY HOME.

But here they are, marked for the slaughter in beautiful mahogany, French walnut, curly walnut, English oak and other finishes; large, medium or small sizes; plain, fancy carved or Colonial cases—a Piano to suit every taste:

NEW PIANOS.

$550 UPRIGHTS CUT TO $342

No matter what you may want in an instrument, whether it be a grand or upright, a used upright, square piano or an organ, we have it here for you, and at just about half the price you expected to pay some day.

SHOP-WORN UPRIGHTS.

Here are fine standard grade Uprights, in Mahogany, Walnut and English Oak; Pianos that sell at any other time or place at $325. Now only $183.

Now when you can secure good instruments at such prices, is there any excuse for your children to be without music? Come in and get one for them. Their pocket change will meet the payments, only $2 or $3 monthly.

U. S. SUPREME COURT SCORED BY GOMPERS

Alleged That Court Evaded Issue in the Contempt Case.

Washington, June 14.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, this evening declared the supreme court of the United States, in its recent decision quashing the jail sentences of himself, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, in contempt proceedings, avoided the issue and decided the cases against the labor leaders in academic fashion.

Mr. Gompers was one of the speakers at a banquet in honor of the executive council of the federation, and of the fifteen members of the house of representatives who carry union cards. The speaker said if the rule of reason applies when vast wealth is concerned it should not be omitted when human activity is the question at issue.

Speaker Champ Clark warmly championed the right of petition and said the freer the country the more efficient is labor.

21 BIG BAKING CONCERNS HAVE POOLED ISSUES

They Merge Under Name of the General Baking Company.

New York, June 14.—Twenty-one big baking companies in cities dotting the east and south from Boston to St. Louis and New Orleans, threw in their lot together today, merging under the name of the General Baking Company, with a total capital of $20,000,000 in stock and $5,000,000 in bonds. The new chain of bakeries will be operated in fifteen cities.

"In the formation of the General Baking Company," the announcement reads, "there is no thought or purpose of the establishment of a monopoly in the manufacture or sale of bread. Such a monopoly would be impossible, as in most localities, with few exceptions, only one baking company has been acquired, leaving competition open to hundreds of others."

The cities with companies participating in the merger are New York, Boston, Providence, R. I., Newark and Jersey City, N. J., Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Washington, D. C., Cleveland, Canton, Toledo, Ohio, Detroit, Mich., Wheeling, W. Va., Rochester and Buffalo, N. Y.

Curtis Opposes Pact.

The loss to the United States through the ratification of the Canadian reciprocity agreement would, in the opinion of Senator Curtis, be proportionate to Canada's gain.

Mr. Curtis quoted figures to show that the United States' trade with Canada last year had amounted to $138,552,278, and maintained that this country should let well enough alone. "Our trade relations with Canada are now very satisfactory to the United States," said the senator; "so, why should we change them? By this agreement we are to open our splendid market of 90,000,000 people, and in return they give us the market of 9,000,000 people, and this, too, a market which is now largely controlled by our producers. There is no better home market in the world than ours, and why should we part with any portion of it without an equivalent return?"

He also contended that to open up our markets to Canadian products would mean that a large number of people would be attracted to Canada by the low price of land, and that great development, improvement and production would follow.

Would Injure Farmer, Says McCumber.

Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, opposed the reciprocity agreement on the ground that it would injure the American farmer.

"I believe this treaty," said Senator McCumber, "if enacted into law would not only postpone for many years the consummation of a hope indulged by the farmers of the country—a hope held out to them by every speaker and writer who sought to secure and hold their votes for the protective policy of the country, but that its logical result would be to destroy the policy itself. I must, therefore, either repudiate all I have advocated for years or oppose the consummation of this agreement.

"I say, again, that the farmer who for years has looked forward to that period when consumption and production of wheat, barley and flax should equal each other in this country, will be doomed to remain for a century to come absolutely dependent upon and subservient to the world's level of prices for his products; and that, with the enormous possibility of grain production in the Canadian northwest, those prices will be lower, comparatively, than he has received for a number of years."

Senator McCumber declared that the measure was neither republican nor democratic, but a hybrid measure which inherits none of the good qualities of the one parent and only the bad qualities of the other.

FROM ONE POCKET INTO THE OTHER

figures relating to the stel trust railroads in the Lake Superior ore region. The chairman had secured rates per ton on ore hauled by the Duluth and Iron range and the Duluth, Mesaba and Northern, steel trust roads, from the intersate commerce commission and had employed an engineer to compute from these figures the rate per ton per mile. The purpose was to show that the rates charged for hauling ore over the street trust roads were exorbitant. The charges, he said, were paid from one steel trust pocket to the other, but resulted in unjust cost to independent owners and thus increased unfairly the cost of production.

Mr. Lindabury objected to the introduction of the figures computed without the identity of their author.

"Who is authority for those figures?" he asked.

"An engineer and expert accountant whom I employed to make the mathematical calculations," said Mr. Stanley.

"Well, it should not appear in the record that these figures are authoritative, and I think the record should show the author," said Mr. Lindabury.

Employed by Stanley.

"The man was an employee of mine," said Mr. Stanley.

"I might say he is thoroughly competent and was formerly in the service of the Carnegie Steel Company and the United States Steel Corporation.

"Might I ask if he is Mr. Tindell?" inquired Mr. Lindabury.

"You may ask," said Stanley, "but I assure you the name is of no consequence in this record. It was as if I had done it myself. I am responsible for the figures. If they are wrong, they may be corrected."

The committee will not meet again for several days, probably not until next week, after the passage of the wool bill in the house. The future course will be determined within a few days. Among the first witnesses to be called when the committee resumes will be James A. Farrel, president of the steel corporation.

Mr. Gayley today explained to the committee many details about the ore holdings and shipping facilities of the steel corporation, and was excused with the understanding that he might later be recalled.

Texas Drought Broken.

Dallas, Texas, June 14.—A drouth, which has threatened to seriously retard the growth of crops, was broken in northern Texas tonight. In Dallas rain began to fall at 8 o'clock, accompanied by thunderstorms and a high wind. The rainfall was general over several adjoining counties at the same hour. Denison and Sherman reported heavy showers.

FORGERY CHARGED SMITH IS MISSING

Although Mr. Bowen was suspicious of the operations of Mr. Smith several months ago, it was not until this week that other stockholders and officers of the company became aware of anything wrong.

Frank W. Myers, Jr., president of the company, stated to The Constitution last night that he was approached last Monday by a friend, who declared that Smith owed him $500. On Mr. Myers explaining that he knew nothing of the matter, the friend said that he had advanced Smith that sum during Myers' absence from town for some expenses which had been incurred since his departure.

W. F. Brandt, who had business dealings with the company, stated that also on Monday a check which Smith had given him came back from the bank unpaid. Since that time, he declares, he has found himself short of probably $7,000, of which the greater part was in two batches of purchase money notes, for $2,700 and $1,600.

Mr. Brandt also stated that F. L. Blizzard, connected with the Atlanta Woolen Mills, had a commercial paper bearing his name, and that the signature was a forgery. W. D. Calhoun, a notary public, was also mentioned as knowing something of the forgeries, but Mr. Calhoun refused to make any statement whatever.

Refused to Make Statement.

R. L. Morris, 332 Myrtle street, was reported as another heavy loser in the company, it being said, though not officially, that he was involved to the extent of about $18,000. Last night Mr. Morris also refused any statement to the public.

Judge Simmons, said to be about $16,000 the poorer since Mr. Smith's absence, maintained a Sphinx-like attitude when asked about his losses.

"A fellow that's stung," he said, "never likes to tell about it."

Several notes, indorsed by "M. Mathews," have been carried up for collection, only to find that the signature of the indorser was a forgery. Mr. Matthews, who is a contractor, immediately noted the use of only one "t" in his name and the omission of his middle initial, and caught the forgery at once. It is said that all of this worthless paper bore the name of Mr. Smith in some way.

Frank M. Myers, Jr., an officer of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, and a well-known citizen, made the following statement last night for The Constitution in regard to his connection with the company as president:

Myers Makes Statement.

"I have known Mr. Smith for about 15 years, and have done business with him for about 12 years. I have been connected with the loan company, of which he was secretary and treasurer, since February, 1907.

"I have always regarded Mr. Smith as honest, upright and in every way worthy of being trusted.

"The first intimation that I had of anything being wrong was on Tuesday afternoon, about 3 o'clock. I immediately commenced an investigation and found many irregularities.

"Any irregularities which Smith may have committed were done as an individual, without the knowledge of the other officers or stockholders of the company. Smith owned a majority of the stock. I owned about six shares, there being approximately 160 shares. The paid-in stock was $15,000.

"I have no idea what the amount of Mr. Smith's irregularities, if such they prove to be, is. Last May I checked his books, and at that time I discovered no irregularities. They seemed to be in good condition, and all notes were on hand for which loans had been made."

Many Women Involved.

The news of the trouble yesterday spread rapidly from one stockholder to another, and then to those who had made investments through Smith and who had trusted him with their earnings and savings.

Nearly all day there were anxious faced persons in the dingy little offices of the company, eagerly questioning or just waiting, trying to realize that they were again penniless or nearly so.

In the number were many women, some known as hard-working business women, others who were widows and depended on their little capital for support.

"It was all I had," explained one woman quietly after she had been told that it was probable her $5,000 had been wiped out.

Justice Lamar Honored.

Lexington, Va., June 14.—At the commencement exercises at Washington and Lee University today 167 graduates received degrees. Senator Robert L. Owen, of Oklahoma, an alumnus delivered an address, and President Denny presided. Honorary degrees of Doctor of Laws were conferred on Charles A. Graves, of the University of Virginia, and Justice Joseph Rucker Lamar, of the United States supreme court.

Condition of the Treasury.

Washington, June 14.—The end of this month promises to find the federal treasury in a better condition than for two years. While the fiscal year already shows an ordinary surplus of more than $8,000,000, as against a deficit of $13,000,000 a year ago at this time, there is promise that the total deficit now standing at $21,000,000 may be much reduced before the next fiscal year begins.

No Mint For New Orleans.

Washington, June 14.—The historic New Orleans mint will cease to exist as such after July 1. After that time it will be conducted as an assay office and a storage place for 22,000,000 silver dollars, which will be stacked in the only one of its old vaults now considered burglar-proof.

ADVERTISING TALKS.

merchant or manufacturer to run one or two, or even a dozen, advertisements and expect to get business as a result of them—he might just as well throw the money away for all the good it will do him.

IT IS CONSTANT REPETITION THAT COUNTS IN ADVERTISING—KEEPING ONE'S NAME BEFORE THE PUBLIC ALL OF THE TIME.

No matter how small the announcement, if it is run REGULARLY, it will make an impression on the public—people will get in the habit of looking for it, and when they need the article advertised, THEY WILL RESPOND to the advertisement.

There are times, of course, when a single advertisement is all that is necessary to attain the result desired—but that is only in special cases.

To develop a REGULAR, CONSISTENT BUSINESS, regular, consistent advertising is neccessary.

The merchant or manufacturer who runs only one or two advertisements in any publication and expects results from them, is not only UNFAIR TO HIMSELF, but is unfair to the publication as well.

There is no publication big enough or strong enough to pay any advertiser on a few insertions. That is the reason "TEST" ADVERTISEMENTS are practically useless in determining any publication's value as an advertising medium.

And that is why publications should refuse to print single advertisements, when such advertisements are to be used to "try out" the publication.

bill, we made the best fight possible. To persist would have resulted in the first serious split in the party ranks. This Speaker Clark and Mr. Underwood were anxious to avoid, and at their requset I desisted from further efforts, as did the other representatives who were urging important measures. There was no other way out of it."

Democrats Stick to Program.

The result of the caucus is a reinforced determination of the democrats to confine their legislative efforts at this session to the tariff.

"The action of the caucus simply means that we will go ahead with the tariff program as originally outlined at the opening of the session," said Democratic Leader Underwood.

After the caucus several members declared there might be another caucus later to determine upon a short extra program, but the party leaders expressed the opinion nothing further would be added to the legislative program.

The Master Plumbers.

Galveston, Texas, June 14.—Efforts on the part of the Chicago delegation to have the per capita tax of the National Association of Master Plumbers reduced from $2 to $1, was defeated after a lengthy debate at an executive session of the association today. Another resolution, proposing the establishment of a monthly trade journal of sixteen pages, also failed of adoption. This was proposed by a delegate from Georgia. The convention will conclude tomorrow.
